

The Drums Rolled, Bugles Blared . . .

By FRANK LAPIERRE

"It was marvelously successful and undoubtedly a high point in the history of Daly City."

This was the opinion of Councilman McRobert Stewart, Daly City Bicentennial chairman, describing Sunday's mammoth parade, in which 187 marching units participated.

Equally proud of the event was Bicentennial

Parade Chairman Al Belotz, who, together with a small band of dedicated citizens, put the three-hour-long parade together during the past year.

Crowds, estimated at 20,000 persons, turned out under clear blue skies to watch the 5,000 marchers step along the route between the Top of the Hill section of Mission Street and the reviewing stand in front of the Westlake Shopping Center on John Daly Blvd.

The marching units stepped off promptly at 12:30 p.m., amidst drum rolls, the blare of trumpets, and with Old Glory waving proudly in the slight breeze that blew across the city.

Largest unit in the parade was the internationally famous 450 member Nichiren Shoshu Academy marching band. The NSA group has toured successfully throughout the country, and has a church on Northgate Drive in Daly City.

Biggest attraction — for the kiddies — was a 17-foot-high rabbit, entered by the local 4-H Club.

Mayor Anthony Giammona and the four members of the City Council arrived at the reviewing stand via Wells Fargo stage coach, with Councilman Victor Kyriakis "riding shotgun" on the front seat.

Reviewing officers for the spectacle were Daly City Police Chief David Hansen and Rear Admiral James Grealish.

Unusual in this, the nation's 200th anniversary, was the absence of military marching units, although there were four color

Playing the Shell (Out) Game

Various Daly City Organizations Receive Funds

Daly City shelled out almost $500,000 to various civic and city agencies Monday, but few people were happy.

Even those who got a piece of the federal government's revenue sharing money-pie expressed dissatisfaction over the amount allocated by the City Council.

Especially upset was James R. Valentine, executive director of the Guadalupe Health Clinic at 75 Wellington Ave.

Valentine pointed out that City Manager David Rowe recommended allocation of some $38,000 to replace the floor at the War Memorial gymnasium, another $21,350 for running the Westmoor swimming pool, $25,000 for computer services and $30,000 for library books but refused to fund the $89,000 the clinic needs to keep functioning.

The council approved an allocation to Guadalupe of only $15,000.

Valentine said he did not "chose to appear to be ungrateful for the $15,000 recommended on behalf of Our Lady of Guadalupe Health Center, but only to choose to try and convince the council as to the true severity of our plight."

"There is no money out there," Valentine said, indicating the city was the center's last hope. "It's a very real world out there."

Mayor Anthony Giammona responded that the city is "not in the health business" and that in recent years the council, at the urging of Rowe, had given the center $107,000.

"You make it sound like we don't care. We do care," Giammona said.

Rowe said he could appreciate the problems created by the money shortage, noting, "We (in Daly City) are in the same position."

The city manager's budget is some $600,000 out of balance and the staff and council have been trying to pare the budget, it was learned.

On the other hand, while many of the civic organizations asking for funds can curtail programs, the city by law must meet certain obligations, services that taxpayers insist upon, Rowe explained.

Julius Castellan, informing the council he was representing the community's senior citizens, angrily denounced the elimination of a Dial-a-Ride program from the allocations.

City staff had noted the program which included purchase of a van ($7,600) and salary for personnel to staff the program ($26,186), was not eligible for funding under guidelines set forth by the government under the revenue sharing program.

Castellan charged the city "doesn't care" about the senior citizens living within the community.

Giammona denied the charge, countering that in the past the city had displayed its concern for its senior citizens by financially supporting various senior programs.

And while Giammona said he personally had been active in many senior citizen programs, "and you know it, Julius," Castellan bitterly warned the council he would continue to fight for senior citizen programs.

Ottoboni Recall Failure

A recall movement against veteran Colma councilman Raymond Ottoboni has failed.

Petitioners did not get the necessary signatures before the June 11 deadline and the issue was dropped.

Ottoboni, who with his wife and son, have been charged with voter fraud and conspiracy by the Grand Jury, said the recall failure proved residents of Colma were still supportive of him as a member of the council.

One of the principal petitioners, former councilman Earl H. Taylor, died last month.

Observers saw Taylor's death as the major reason for the failure of the campaign to oust Ottoboni from office.

Other signers were Earl P. Taylor (son of the councilman), Michael Field and Ray Lencioni.

Meeting Scheduled

The Bay Area Rapid Transit District (BART) Board of Directors, at its June 22 meeting in Oakland, will consider a contract to provide for two hydraulic passenger elevators at the new Daly City BART station parking lot.

Retirement Pay Boost Meeting; 12 Are Involved

Retired police officers in Daly City will sit down with staff within the next few days to discuss an increase in retirement pay.

There are 12 retired police officers in Daly City.

Officers like Rico Benedetti, who retired some 15 years ago, barely are making enough to survive, according to Retired Officers Association representative David H. Johnstone.

Benedetti's "take home pay" is slightly more than $300 per month after medical insurance premiums are deducted, Johnstone said, and other officers suffer the same plight.

Salary increases have not kept pace with the rate of inflation over the years, Johnstone told the City Council.

"We wish to see . . . a reasonable cost of living formula established for retired Daly City police officers," Johnstone said.

Until recently, retirement pay was negotiated by active duty police officers and not retired officers, it was understood.

State legislation governing pay hikes for retired officers has been neglected, according to Johnstone, and the inflation rate has fast outpaced the "catchup formula" allowed by law.

Even if the city approves a maximum (under the current guidelines) pay hike, most retired officers will realize only an additional $30-40 per month, it was explained.

Lt. Jim Doran Doubly Proud Of His Boys

Daly City Police Lt. Jim Doran is doubly proud today.

His twin sons, Jim and Rick, have just been selected to represent their school at one-week conferences this month.

Both boys are entering their senior year at El Camino High School.

Jim will attend the Federation of Christian Athletes Conference in Ashland, Ore., Rick will be attending Boys' State in Sacramento.

Both Jim and Rick are 4.0 honor students and varsity athletes.

Sgt. Bob Anderson, with teeth

The 'Anderson Involvement'

Recruiter Loses Teeth In Case After Robbery

By FRANK LAPIERRE

All Sgt. Bob Anderson wanted for Christmas last Monday was his four front teeth, to paraphrase a popular Yuletide jingle.

It seems the husky 23-year-old paratrooper was passing by the Bank of America building, near his new U.S. Army Recruiting station at Serramonte Plaza, when he saw two men and a woman running away from the building.

While the bank's operations officer Thomas Anderson (no relation to Sgt. Anderson) pursued the trio calling for help, Anderson chased one of the men — only to trip on a garden hose, fall and knock out the four front teeth.

"I didn't even get to tussle with the guy, and I lost my teeth," Sgt. Anderson commented wryly.

Police apprehended one of the two men, but later released him when he appeared to be an innocent bystander to the incident, police said.

The man, Leodus Simmons, 21, of Oakland, told police he met the man and woman in the shopping center about 10 a.m.

When the couple told Simmons they were heading for Oakland after they stopped off at the Bank of America to cash a check, he asked for a ride and they agreed.

A teller at the bank, Angela McCauley questioned the check.

Two weeks before, Mrs. Louanne Heath, of Daly City, wrote to the bank to inform them that Helen Anderson (no relation to either Thomas Anderson or the sergeant) had been robbed and a negotiable check was missing.

Bob Anderson, a native of Maine, spent the last five years stationed with the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Monday's trip wasn't his first fall.

The last time he tripped — so to speak — he was several thousand feet in the air, getting ready to jump from a jet troop-carrier airplane over Fort Bragg.

It was Anderson's 130th jump, but something went wrong.

Before the inexperienced jumpmaster could stop Anderson, the soldier tripped and tumbled out of the plane.

Anderson was caught in the hot jet-

No Bus Rate Change Asked

Despite charges that Northgate Transit Co. cannot account for almost $200,000 in collected patronage fares, San Mateo County Transit District (SAMTRANS) officials have asked the State Public Utilities Commission not to take any action in connection with a requested five cent rate increase.

Northgate claims higher costs of operation justify the fare hike, but Daly City officials and some staff members of the PUC disagree.

PUC hearing officer John W. Weiss concluded a four-day session Friday after hearing evidence from both sides in the rate hike issue.

During this hearing it was brought out by investigator Keith Helminick of the PUC's Finance and Accounts Division that Northgate's records failed to reveal an estimated $185,000 in cash fares collected on routes operating in Daly City, San Francisco and South San Francisco last year.

Helminick also explained that Northgate's records were maintained in a slipshod manner and, except for one voucher concerning a 1975 insurance premium for the company, did not coincide with on-site checks made by the PUC.

On March 24, 25 and 26, 1976, Helminick conducted a passenger count on all bus routes operating under the Northgate banner.

It was determined, using this count, that the company's patronage grossed some $394,000 annually. However, gross receipts filed by Northgate on May 3, 1976, for 1975 revealed the company grossed only $209,000.

Helminick testified, Thursday that George Ferris, vice president of Northgate, told him that gross receipts collected were being pocketed by bus drivers and figures being given to him (Ferris) were not true.

Northgate has a rather unusual operation: Drivers own and operate their own vehicles and pay Northgate

STAGECOACH RIDE

Daly City councilmen rode in Wells Fargo stagecoach during bicentennial parade down John Daly

PART OF THE PARADE

The Nichiren Shoshu Academy marching unit, 450 strong, was one of the 187 units which participated in a giant bicentennial parade in Daly City Sunday. A crowd of 20,000 viewed the 5,000 parade participants under sunny skies.

Parade

guards representing the Armed Forces.

The color guards were interspersed throughout the parade units.

The reviewing stand was brimming over with local civic, military, business and government officials.

Representing the Bicentennial Parade Committee, which put the affair together, were chairman Belotti, Peter Markovich and Edward King.

Other local units participating were from the four high schools in the Jefferson Union High School District.

Jefferson, Oceana and Terra Nova entered their marching bands, while Westmoor's stage band riled the air with pop songs of the day.

Daly City police said the massive traffic jam created by the parade was cleared up within 30 minutes after the parade ended.

The crowd was extremely courteous and well-behaved. Everyone, as far as I know, had a great time, Police Lt. Tom Culley said.

"I think this is a proud moment in our city's history," one spectator commented as the last unit passed by the reviewing stand.

$50 weekly, plus varying charges for maintenance and storage.

Two departments within the PUC are now at loggerheads over the Northgate fare hike — the Transportation and Finance & Accounting departments.

Helmnick, who it was learned, refused to sign a revised report which failed to mention his recommendation that the increase be denied, is an investigator for the Finance and Accounts Department.

F&A did not send in its report because of this disagreement, this newspaper was told.

The Transportation Department recommended Northgate's request be approved.

Marc Gottlieb of the Transportation Department noted in computations presented to the hearing that he had given credit for depreciation of equipment, although he had never actually seen any depreciation schedules by the company.

And, Gottlieb's report noted, his figures for maintenance costs were reached by using the same costs as the Greyhound Co. uses.

Greyhound bases its maintenance figures on passenger miles.

Under general expenses, Gottlieb gave Ferris a salary of $12,000, even though the company official had not received a salary for several years, according to company reports.

Daly City City Atty. Albert Polonsky argued that the actual gross income of Northgate drivers, and presumably Ferris, was in excess of $23,000 yearly.

Much of the reports filed with the PUC were based on assumptions, it appeared.

Books and records maintained by Northgate were sketchy, according to Helminick.

Helmnick said requests for addition company records brought the promise from Ferris that Northgate would send its accountant to Helminick's office with supplemental data. The records were never received, Helminick testified.

Gottlieb said his figures on ridership coincided with those provided by Silvano Gonzalez, general manager of Northgate.

Also, both the Finance & Accounts and Transportation departments of the PUC agreed on the gross receipts, they believe Northgate realized during 1975.

Asked why, in the face of testimony presented to Weiss, SanTrans elected to submit a brief asking the PUC not to take any action on the fare request, John Mauro, General Manager of the district, said such action might endanger current negotiations between the district and Northgate.

SanTrans is now trying to buy out Northgate.

On the one hand, if SanTrans pressures the PUC into denying the hike the bus company might break out negotiations and claim the district is using its influence to downgrade the company so it can be bought out cheaply.

On the other hand, if the fare hike goes through it could add to the "buy-out" value of Northgate and cost local taxpayers more in the final analysis.

This is the unofficial consensus of several persons connected with transportation in the county the Post learned.

Mauro said the district has now hired an independent appraiser to establish a value for Northgate.

Once that appraisal is presented to our board, we can enter formal negotiations and make an offer to Northgate," he said.

We expect that process to be started within one month. Our position, therefore, was to ask the PUC to hold this matter in abeyance and determine whether the acquisition of the property (by SanTrans) would make this whole question of a fare hike a moot point."

For what seemed an eternity, Anderson recalls, he fell through space. Actually, it was only a few short minutes.

For months he lay in a military hospi-

Man Arrested in DC On Axe Slash Charge

A San Francisco man was arrested after he allegedly hit a 16-year-old boy with an axe near the Cow Palace Monday.

Sal D. Hoffman, 16, also of San Francisco, suffered an eight-inch gash on his right hip after he was allegedly struck with an axe wielded by Kevin J. Kelly, 24, following a minor traffic incident at the corner of Calgary and Geneva streets.

Daly City Police Officer Jay Flynn saw the altercation, police said, and apprehended Kelly.

The victim was treated for his injury at a nearby hospital and released, police said.

Orchid Grower

Rod McLellan Dies

Rod McLellan, a pioneer in the concept of retailing orchids who ran one of the largest industries in San Mateo County, died after an illness Monday evening at Devonshire Oaks Nursing and Convalescent Home in Redwood City. He was 73.

In June, 1974, he received a commendation from the State Legislature of which he was especially proud, recognition of a long and exemplary business and civic life.

McLellan, who had recently graduated with a bachelor's degree in botany from Stanford University, took over his father's floral business in the early 30's when it was little more than a hobby, according to Rod Carlson, who worked with him for 45 years.

"He worked with us out in the field just like one of us," Carlson said. "He took over when the business was very small. He started from scratch and built it up little by little. He succeeded because he was ambitious, aggressive and thrifty."

His daughter, Joan McLellan Taylor, remembers her father as a man of exceptional integrity. "At a stockbrokers' meeting a few years ago, a special orchid named for McLellan was presented to him."

"The speaker said something I've heard over and over about him," she said. "He said my father was a man of integrity and honor. People who worked with him said the same thing to me many times."

A former employee at McLellan's nursery at 1450 El Camino Real in South San Francisco, remembers that he took a personal interest in the business and prided himself on it being a showplace. She said he held an open house every year to thank the public for its support and enjoyed personally conducting tours of the nursery.

"He was tall, slender and had silver hair that gave him a very distinguished look," she said. "Women loved it when he was the tour leader. They all commented 'my gosh, he's prettier than his flowers.'"

"He wanted everyone to feel welcome. He took a lot of pride in the business, down to even little things. You never knew when he was going to pop in. But it paid off."

McLellan, a member of the family that first settled in Burlingame, was a member of the initial San Mateo College Planning Board, a member of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions, for which he received an award in 1966, and a member of the Board of Directors of the Society of American Florists.

Rod McLellan

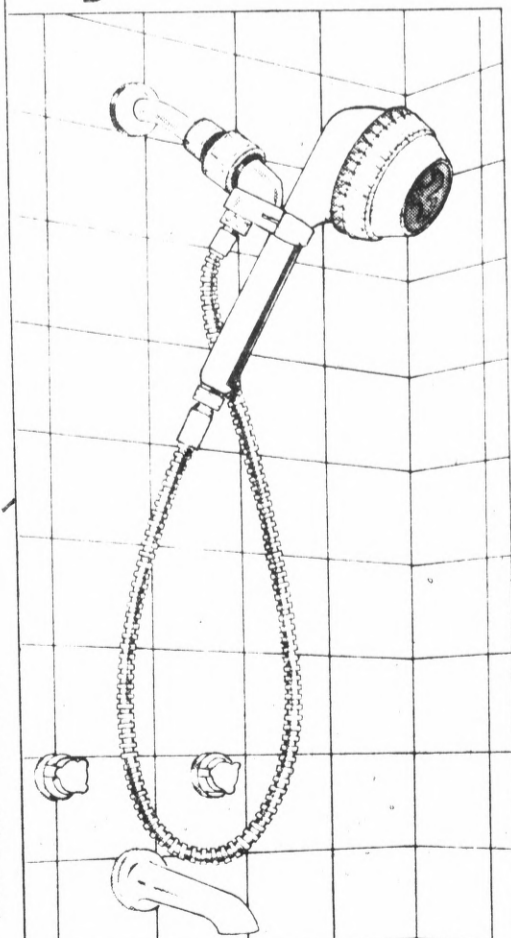

He was a judge of the American Orchid Society and, at the time of his death, a judge emeritus for that society. He was active in establishing the first World Orchid Congress, was director of the California Carnation Society and was a vice president of California State Florists Association.

He was a regular contributor to the publications of the American Orchid Society and to the Orchid Digest and was in demand throughout the world as a speaker on horticulture.

Man Held In Shooting Of Pair

A South San Francisco man was charged with attempted murder Thursday after he allegedly shot his ex-wife and a male companion at the woman's home.

The shooting occurred about 7:15 p.m. at 8 Clara Ave., South San Francisco, police said.

Arrested and charged with two counts of assault with a deadly weapon was Anthony Frank Marques, 40, of 429 Baden Ave. He was held at the Daly City Pre-arrestment Detention Facility in lieu of $50,000 bail, police said.

Marques is alleged to have visited the home of Rosemarie Marques, 35, and fired two shots — once at his ex-wife and a second shot at Gary Tanner, 29, of San Mateo.

Tanner was struck in the back, with the bullet exiting through his chest and puncturing a lung. He was reported in serious condition today at Kaiser Hospital in South San Francisco.

Police said the woman victim was struck in the breast by one bullet and is in good condition at Kaiser Hospital today.

The couple was divorced about two years ago, it was learned.

Dedication Of Plaque Is Scheduled

June 19 there will be an unveiling of a memorial plaque for the late Sanford G. Vickers at the Lincoln Park Community Center. The plaque was donated in Vickers' memory from his friends and neighbors for his contributions to the City of Daly City.

While living in Daly City for 26 years, Vickers was very active in civic affairs. He served as councilman from 1954-1958, was a member of the Sanitation Board, and an honorary member of the Jefferson PTA.

The ceremony will begin at 1 p.m. in the Brunswick Room at the Lincoln Park Community Center. Anyone wishing to attend the ceremony is welcome.

New Strike Violence

The threat of violence lingered Thursday in the North County's industrial sector following a disturbance Wednesday near the Folger Coffee Co. in South San Francisco.

A picketing warehouseman was taken to Kaiser Hospital after he was struck by an auto driven by a security guard who was hired last Friday when the strike started, police said.

The driver, Jewel Brown, 27, was arrested and released pending an investigation of charges of assault with a deadly weapon.

The warehouseman, Larry Alan Dunlop of 310 Sixth Ave., San Francisco, had cuts and swelling on his right leg, but was released from the hospital the same day.

Twenty-nine pickets were arrested Wednesday when they refused to leave the driveway of the coffee company. They are members of the ILWU-IBT that struck Northern California businesses Friday.

While negotiations were going on Thursday at the Western Conference of Teamsters office in Burlingame, there was another labor-related disturbance.

A Delta Lines driver who had left Van Waters & Rogers Corp. in Brisbane and was headed for San Francisco at 2:30 p.m. reported that three men in a car followed him from the plant.

Just as they crossed the San Francisco city limit, one of two passengers in the back seat of the car allegedly pointed a rifle at him, police said.

The trucker sped off and reported the incident to San Francisco police.

A Brisbane policeman said the driver of the car was questioned but no charges were made and he was not held.

Jail Term In Death Suicide Center in Name Change

Carl K. Tufano, 22, was sentenced Thursday to one year in county jail for vehicular manslaughter stemming from a South San Francisco accident Dec. 19 in which Juanita D. Jankowski, 56, was killed and her two daughters injured.

The defendant and victims all resided in that city.

Sentence was imposed by Superior Court Judge Frank Plombo. He also put Tufano on three years probation, fined him $375 and ordered him to refrain from alcohol and driving while on probation. Tufano was given a stay of execution to June 18.

According to prosecutor Clifford Gretan, Tufano ran a stop sign and collided with a car in which Mrs. Jankowski and her daughters were driving. Gretan said that the daughters were seriously injured.

The Suicide Prevention Center of San Mateo County has changed its name to the Suicide Prevention and Crisis Center of San Mateo County, according to Diane Nelson, board chairman.

Mrs. Nelson said the new name will more accurately reflect the full range of services offered by the bureau. Services are designed for immediate response to all types of crises.

The center offers a 24-hour, seven-days-a-week service staffed by more than 100 volunteers. In addition, a 24-hour outreach team is provided, as well as a friendship line and continuing companions for high-risk clients.

More than 2,000 calls are handled by the center each month.

Kindergarten is the best of all possible worlds. There are no real responsibilities, no big problems and no grades. It's the latter eventuality which often vexes dear old mom and dad.

We need to examine those tell-tale grades to be able to divine just what our precocious offspring have been up to when they are in the loving hands of the school. Without grades, parents feel lost.

Thank goodness my daughter's kindergarten teacher provides a progress report. However, many of the verdicts on that report would lead me to believe that there is a split personality residing in our house.

The progress report detailed nothing but wonderful stuff. I couldn't find a negative remark in a carload. But I know the truth. So, in the interest of fairness, I am providing my daughter's teacher with my own progress report which ought to balance the record.

Here it is:

READING: I am pleased to note that our little charge has developed a voracious desire to read. That's good. What's not so good is that she only reads Tales From the Crypt comic books. When there's a full moon, she is convinced she is one of Dracula's daughters. She demands to sleep in a wooden bed filled with mulch from the backyard. This is causing our air conditioning great stress. And those bolts in her neck just have to go. And, it's nothing personal, but why does she wear gauze bandages to class for show and tell?

ART: There is a time and a place for everything. But art work on the linoleum doesn't make it. She plays tic tac toe on the bathroom walls. She has become a crayon freak. She carries a box of the things around with her and lashes out with a quick flesh tone at the slightest provocation. A Picasso she isn't. She drew a birthday card for her grandmother and it was sent back marked "Return to Sender."

MUSIC: Does your school have any musical instruments? I would hope so. I realize that budgets are tight and all that, but why does my daughter feel the need to practice on makeshift drums at 6 in the morning on a Sunday? My hangovers are grim enough without having Gene Krupa in the next bedroom. She sings under water in the bathtub and nearly inhaled half a sponge last March. She found a flute in a box of corn flakes last week and now serenades the neighbors with her version of "Camptown Races" at any hour of the day or night. She is often accompanied by her cats, thus creating a truly disconcerting trio.

SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT: Although there are reports that my daughter has adjusted to life in the classroom, I'm a little concerned about what's happening outside it. She has a friend who lives around the corner. He owns a low-slung Big Wheels. He wears a leather jacket. He arrives on his mini-hog after school, my daughter jumps aboard and off they roar like a couple of pee wee Gypsy Jokers. They seek out the unwary and the neck. I am a favorite target for them. I am thinking about filing charges.

I can't wait to see that first grade report card. On second thought, maybe I can.

San Bruno Considers Own Disability Insurance

By RICK SULLIVAN
Faced with dramatic increases in the cost of workmen's compensation payments to the state, the San Bruno city staff will recommend to the council that the city carry its own insurance to pay disability to municipal workers injured on the job.

If the concept is approved by the council on Monday, San Bruno will join two other cities and the county in self-insurance programs for workmen's compensation.

Carl Reynolds, finance director for the City of San Mateo, and Don Blum, safety officer for the county, said they anticipate big savings as a result of carrying their own insurance.

San Mateo and the county have been self-insured for almost a year. Redwood City is expected to self-insure for workmen's compensation beginning July 1.

According to San Bruno Assistant City Manager Jack Mulqueeny, cities are mandated by state law to contribute to the State Compensation Insurance Fund or to carry their own insurance for workmen's compensation.

Mulqueeny said that during the past five years, State Compensation Insurance has risen 337 per cent in San Bruno. He said the rates increased 73 per cent last year, and the city was forced to budget $230,680 to pay to the state fund.

San Bruno's experience in disability and injuries (to employees on the job) is better than the state average and has been for the past 10 years," Mulqueeny said. "Yet, for some reason, our costs keep on jumping."

The city manager (Gerald Minford) and I agonized over these increases, and it was decided that a study should be made to determine if we could save money by self-insuring," Mulqueeny added.

In his report to the council, Mulqueeny will recommend that the council budget $175,000 next year for Workmen's Compensation Insurance.

Of that amount, $150,000 will be placed in a trust fund for payment of future claims and the remainder will be spent on costs to administer the self-insurance program.

The amount in the trust fund will cover claims up to and including $100,000. The city, Mulqueeny said, will carry outside insurance for claims in excess of $100,000. This will cost the city about $15,000 a year.

If the self-insurance plan is approved, Mulqueeny said the city will contract with a claims administrator to process the paper work involved in any claims submitted.

"It is our belief," he said, "that the claims administrator will be able to process claims a lot faster than does the state, and thus save city funds."

The state sometimes dawdles in its attempt to settle claims and by the time they go through an arbitrator or the courts, the cities get killed (by the amount of the settlement), he said.

"It's our feeling," Mulqueeny continued, "that if we can get a good administrator, claims will be promptly taken care of."

Another advantage according to the city manager, include the great "safety engineer" program conducted by claims administrator.

"We would hope Mulqueeny, that month the admin would provide us safety engineering to help reduce injury on the job."

Blum, the county officer, anticipates the end of this fiscal year, the county have saved $300,000 and $500,000 workmen's compensation costs through its self-insurance program.

Reynolds would guess how much San Bruno will have saved by the end of the fiscal year, but he said that of the $47 budgeted for workmen's compensation insurance this current year, injury and claims so far cost the city $140,000.

In the 1974-75 fiscal year, San Mateo paid $477,000 to the State Compensation Insurance Fund.

San Bruno's proposed workmen's compensation plan is the first step toward what City Manager Minford said he hopes will be a total self-insurance program for the city.

On many occasions in the past, Minford has warned that liability insurance could jump as high as malpractice insurance for physicians has increased in recent months.

Mulqueeny said that over the next several months he will be studying the feasibility of San Bruno carrying its own liability insurance.

San Bruno Bus Service Slated

Six bus routes covering every neighborhood in San Bruno won the endorsement of the San Mateo County Transit District directors and all members of the City Council Wednesday night.

Carle Salley, director of transit operations, assured the board and city councilmen who attended the directors meeting held in the San Bruno council chambers that bus service would begin in the city July 3.

Salley informed the board he had developed the bus service plan after months of consultation with the city staff and with members of the council.

His meeting with councilmen, however, was precipitated by a tumultuous City Council meeting several weeks ago when Councilmen Tony Governale and John Barnard criticized Salley for designing a plan which they said failed to provide service to two neighborhoods in the city and failed to connect San Bruno service with that of Millbrae.

Salley's meeting with councilmen resulted in an adjustment to one of the routes, which under the new bus plan, serves the two previously ignored neighborhoods of Lomita Park and Parkview.

Additionally, the new route now connects with Millbrae. In fact, the route originates at the San Bruno Southern Pacific railroad station, winds through Lomita Park and Parkview, stops at Capuchino High School and terminates at the SP station in Millbrae.

Immunization for Children is Urged

Dr. James Bodie, director of the Health Division of the San Mateo County Department of Health and Welfare, is urging parents of pre-school and school-age children to take advantage of the continuing immunization program being offered in San Mateo.

Unless more children are immunized, outbreaks of preventable diseases could occur here, such as the measles epidemic we had last year," Bodie said.

The Mid-County Public Health Nursing Office is offering free immunizations each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the Samaritan House, 117 N. Delaware St. from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Parents should check the health records of their children to determine if immunizations are up to date, and should bring the records when a child is to receive an immunization shot, Bodie said.

Older children who had measles shots prior to 1968 need another shot if they have not received one since.

In addition to measles, immunizations are given for polio, diphtheria, tetanus and German measles.

SSF Aims to Name City Manager in Fall

A new city manager will be selected by Sept. 15 and on the job by Nov. 1 in South San Francisco, the City Council has decided.

The council approved a memo from the present city manager, Ed Alario, and Acting City Manager Frank Addiego that lays the groundwork for speedy selection of a new manager.

After months of speculation, the council voted 4-1 last week to fire Alario, who has been city manager since 1973.

There was some concern in South San Francisco that a new city manager would not be selected for as long as six months.

However, the council Tuesday night authorized advertising for the vacancy to begin June 15 and close Aug. 10.

A professional city manager screening board is to narrow the field of candidates to the top six contenders and a list is to be submitted to the City Council Aug. 18.

The council then is to interview candidates from Aug. 28 to Sept. 4, verify references and backgrounds from Sept. 5 to 15 and select the new manager by Sept. 15.

The council said it hopes the new manager will be at work sometime between Oct. 15 and Nov. 1.

The position — which pays from $32,885 to $39,978 — will be advertised in the International City Manager's Association Newsletter, Western Cities Magazine and other national publications.

Councilmen have said, however, that they prefer an individual with expertise in the state of California.

The advertisements will stipulate that experience in this state is desirable.

Alario's last day on the job is June 30. The city also will be without Assistant City Manager Mike Wilson until November.

Wilson is on a six-month leave of absence to Europe.

The council also has hired Director of Finance Stan Bara. That position was eliminated from the budget and will not be replaced.

Bicentennial 'Dream Girl'

By LIN DAY

San Mateo County's Bicentennial Dream Girl may be a deputy sheriff who is a crack shot, a "Wild Kitten," a criminologist, a political commentator, a future genetics specialist, a hang glider expert or mathematician.

Those were some of the vocations and avocations which popped out when the candidates assembled for the first time at the Royal Coach Motor Hotel this week.

The girls went on from luncheon to tour the San Mateo Historical Society museum at the College of San Mateo to brush up on bicentennial lore.

In addition to the more bizarre and intellectual pursuits, the young beauties produced a large share of the "old-fashioned" but still respected talents such as cooking, sewing and musical prowess.

A number were the elected queens of their respective cities.

However, there were some notable substitutions where cities participating in the Miss California-Miss America Contest had chosen a representative.

Because that contest is on the same night as the Dream Girl Pageant, runners-up replaced the winners in those cities.

The city winners present included one chosen by a nearly all-press panel, Miss Foster City; and another, Miss Belmont, chosen by a panel of judges that included former Miss San Mateo, Mrs. Joan (White) Ward. She was one of the principals of the former Miss San Mateo County Pageant that produced two Miss Californias and helped prepare two others.

The "princesses" competing for Dream Girl in the pageant to be run by the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta June 25 at the A Building, the fairgrounds, include:

• Miss San Mateo — Sharon Trupp, 18, a San Mateo High School senior preparing to teach math and physics, with College of San Mateo in view. She's 5 feet 6, weighs 110, has brown hair and green eyes. Her hobbies include art, the guitar, badminton and meeting people.

• Tammy Green, 17, a runner-up in the Miss Pacifica (for Miss America contest) and a Terra Nova High School senior who graduated this week. She'll go to Skyline College for political science and journalism. She's 5 feet 9, 140 pounds, has light brown hair and green eyes. She writes a weekly column for the Pacifica Tribune, backpacks to the Sierra, is a Youth Commissioner to the Pacifica City Council and has held student body offices.

• Miss Foster City — Kelli Susan McKenney, 18, a tennis player who loves water, skiing and sunshine. A Hillsdale High grad in 1974, she works for Peabody Testing in Foster City, and has the ambition to "do as many different things as possible." She's 5 feet 9, 135 pounds and has brown hair and green eyes.

• Miss Half Moon Bay — Kimberlie Francis Andermahr, 24, who's 5 feet 4, 120 pounds, also has brown hair and green eyes. Kim is a reserve deputy sheriff in San Mateo County and a crack shot with a .38-caliber pistol. (She's a member of the reserve deputy sheriffs' shooting team.) She looks toward a degree in administrative justice. Meanwhile she's working as a member of the Butcher's Union, operating a fork lift.

• Miss Belmont — Susan Seaton, 19, an ash blonde San Francisco native who is 5 feet 4, and 123 pounds. A Carmont High grad, '75, she sings, plays in a church band, is attending College of San Mateo, wants to be a cosmetologist, loves the outdoors, horseback riding, climbing mountains, and drawing animals — she has two dogs. She has green eyes too.

• Miss San Carlos — Sylvia Wasmer, 18, another green-eyed beauty who's 5 feet 10, 130 pounds, a College of San Mateo cosmetology student out of Notre Dame High School, has modeled for art students at CSM, plays tennis, does Yoga exercises, loves travelling abroad, wants to be a stewardess, sings, writes poetry and has won poetry prizes.

• Completing the green-eyed set is Lisa Mengel, runner up in the Miss Redwood City contest (again for the Miss America preliminary) who is 17, a San Francisco native and Woodside High School senior who is pointed toward University of California at Los Angeles. She's 5 feet 6, 120 pounds, and dark blonde. She designs her own clothes, loves piano, cooking, skiing, mixing and modelling. She's a member of the "Wild Kittens Drill Team" and a California Scholarship winner.

• Miss East Palo Alto — Karen Williams, 19, attends Nairobi College, and expects to complete work in criminology studies at San Jose State University. She's 5 feet 8, 117 pounds, cooks, dances, plays tennis and rides horseback. She loves to work with people, especially children, and believes the future criminologist's work is with children and in the preventive area. She was DECA Club president at Castlemont High School and likes modeling as well as gourmet cooking. She has brown eyes and hair.

• Miss Daly City — Diane Albee, 19, has hazel eyes, brown hair, and is 5 feet 3, weighing 115 pounds. A radiology student at City College of San Francisco, she is a Westmoor High, class of '74 grad, an expert swimmer and seamstress. She's a secretary at the Laura Scudder potato chip firm and wants to be a radiology technician. She was senior queen at Westmoor.

• Miss Brisbane — Debbie Almeida, 19, is a 1975 Jefferson High School graduate who works for the Fire Department. She's 5 feet 2, 108 pounds, has brown hair and eyes. An honor roll student all four years of high school, she plays the violin, does Hawaiian dancing, loves to sew and crochet, as well as swim and ride horses.

• Miss San Bruno — Judith Van Why, hazel-eyed blonde who's 5 feet 8, 125 pounds, and 23. She plans to further her work as a cosmetologist with studies at CSM, is an ex-cheerleader (Newton, Mass., High) who has done her share of hang gliding, and a model (graduate of the House of Charm Modelling School.) She loves competition, meeting people, guitar, drama, swimming, gymnastics and art.

• Adele Beatriz-Cecilia Dominguez, 18, has been a Miss Panama in a Latin American parade, Miss Summer in the El Bohemio magazine, and is 5 feet 3, 125 pounds, has dark brown eyes and hair. Representing Millbrae, as a runner-up (the Miss America preliminary again), she attends College of Notre Dame, plays piano and guitar, and is such a good cook she caters for private dinners. She works with the co-op program in the college registrar's office. At Mills High, she was on the boys soccer squad, was kept on the bench.

• Miss Burlingame — Rebecca Baker, 17, is 5 feet 9, 125 pounds, with blonde hair and blue eyes. A Texas native, she was a varsity cheerleader and student council member at Burlingame High, where she was a junior this year. Headed for University of California, Davis, for studies in veterinary medicine, she loves animals, particularly horses, and loves gourmet cooking — particularly Italian food. Her other talents include sewing and swimming, piano and dancing.

• Pamela Gibbs, 19, was runner-up in the South San Francisco contest, another pageant situation. With brown hair and brown eyes, she is 5 feet 8 and 150 pounds. She is attending CSM and plans to go on to San Francisco State University as a pre-med student, preliminary to a life study of genetics and inherited diseases. She won bowling trophies when in the eighth grade and is state president of the Future Business Leaders of California. She likes sewing, quilting, speaking, politics, jogging and singing and dancing, as well as meeting people.

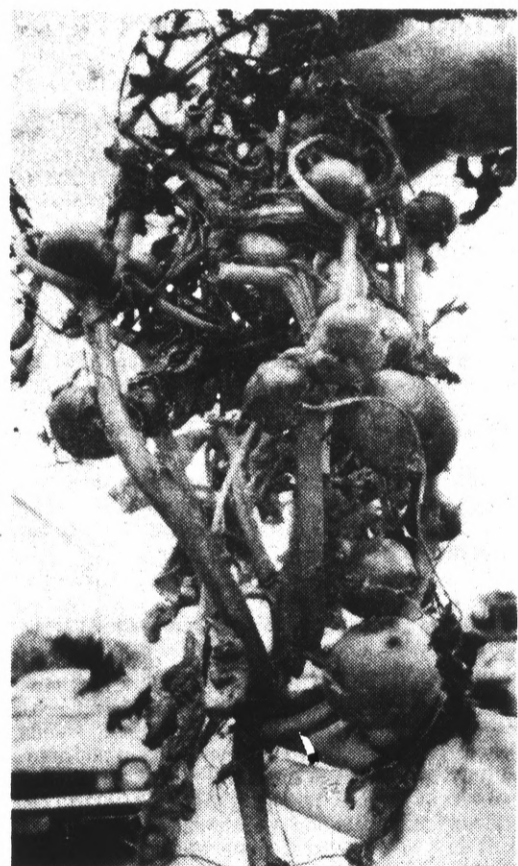

That enough to dream about?

WHICH ONE IS DREAM GIRL?

One of these beauties, each representing her respective city, will be the 1976 Bicentennial Dream Girl, and rule over the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta. They'll compete June 25 at the fairgrounds for the county title. Left to right, front, Kim Andermahr, Miss Half Moon Bay; Adele Dominguez, Miss Millbrae; Debbie Almeida, Miss Brisbane; center, Susan Seton, Miss Belmont; Diane Albee, Miss Daly City; Lisa Mengel, Redwood City; Judy Van Why, Miss San Bruno. Rear, Karen Williams, Miss East Palo Alto; Pamela Gibbs, South San Francisco; Sharon Trupp, Miss San Mateo; Tamara Green, Pacifica; Sylvia Wasmer, Miss San Carlos; Rebecca Baker, Miss Burlingame and Kelli McKenney, Miss Foster City.

AERIAL POTATOES

Albert Capurro of South San Francisco thought he had something rare when he spied this plant in his potato garden.

Potatoes in Air Somewhat Rare, Also Dangerous

Albert Capurro has been gardening in South San Francisco for a long time, and when he found potatoes growing aboveground, he knew they were rare.

Not only the vines, but the potatoes themselves were above ground level by inches. They grew like tomatoes out of the vines, hanging in the sun.

Experts admit they are somewhat rare, and also dangerous.

"Are they green?" asked county farm advisor Hank Sciaroni. "Tell him not to eat them if they're green. The green layer in potatoes contains an alkaloid poison."

Dr. Ron Voss, of the vegetable crops extension at University of California at Davis, asked that one of the vines be sent to him in a plastic bag, suspecting a disease.

"My guess, without seeing them, is that these are what we call 'aerial tubers,' the result of a hormonal imbalance or a disease."

Dr. Voss said the aerial condition could be caused by "one of many" plant diseases, and he advised that they not be eaten.

"He shouldn't eat them," he said. "The green is chlorophyll, which is not dangerous, of course, but there is an alkaloid poison in the same layer."

"Normally, people trim off the green, and the remainder is all right, but these are apt to be green all the way through."

Some home gardeners, said Dr. Voss, grow potatoes "aboveground" in an 18-inch layer of straw kept very moist.

Terra Nova Journalists Receive Writing Awards

Valued Staffers

These three students recently received awards as the most valuable staff members of the Southwood Junior High School Publications Department. They are Gina Zappettini, most valuable staff member of the school paper; Jeff Alario, annual Press Award for outstanding service to the department; and Grace Medina, most valuable staff member on the yearbook staff.

Males dominated the tenth annual Terra Nova Journalism Writing Awards at the recent awards banquet at the Lanai in San Mateo.

The big winner of the evening was senior co-editor-in-chief Doug Hansen, who received trophies for Best Feature Story and Best Editorial, as well as collecting one of the four journalism scholarships proffered by advisor Louis L. Pacini.

The winning stories were voted on by the staff. Brett Lowart, the other senior co-editor-in-chief and recipient of the San Mateo Times "Most Valuable Staffer" award, won for Best News Story, while senior Sports Editor Tom Peterson won for Best Sports Story. Lowart and Peterson also received journalism scholarships.

Photographer Mike Sullivan, a junior, won the "Larry Eolkin Memorial Chair Fragment," the award which annually goes to the journalist who has done most to cause missed deadlines.

Hansen and Peterson actually tied with themselves, as both won for two stories they did.

Hansen's winning features were "Here Come De Pigs," a first-person account of an all night patrol in a San Francisco Police car, and "Tragedy: a Death in the Family," a piece on how the premature death of a parent affects the family of a teenager.

Earlier in the year, Hansen had won a first place in the San Mateo Times county-wide high school journalism contest with his "P.I.G.S." story, as well as a second place and $350 scholarship from the San Francisco Press Club in its Northern California writing contest for his complete body of work in feature stories.

Lowart had also won a San Mateo Times first place for news writing for his story, "Adults View Students' Rights Wrong."

It was a survey of adults in which Lowart re-phrased questions concerning individual rights from the Bill of Rights and the Constitution. Most adults did not recognize the questions for what they were, and were in favor of doing away with many basic human rights, especially as they apply to students.

Peterson tied himself with two big feature sports stories, "14 Years of Frustration Ended," a story about Terra Nova's first football champs, and "Are High School Jocks Going Out of Style."

Hansen won for Best Editorial with his, "Three Cheers From Nobody," a critical analysis of TN's spirit staff.

Senior feature editor Tammy Green, who also won a San Mateo Times award for editorial writing, was the fourth recipient of a Terra Nova journalism scholarship.

Backseat Drivers Sought For Panel

The Daly City office of the State Department of Motor Vehicles has issued a call for volunteers to serve on the DMV "Backseat Driver" Public Panel for this community, following up on DMV Director Herman Sillas' announcement of the department's intention to form a network of 89 community advisory bodies statewide.

Manager L. T. Buchanan, Jr. of the local DMV office said the purpose of the Public Panel program is to enable the people who seek services from state government "to have some participatory input as to the quality of the service rendered them and to have some say on the policies and programs of DMV."

The Public Panel in the Daly City office will include 10 to 15 members and will reflect the interests and backgrounds of the community, the DMV Manager said.

"We're looking for people who don't normally have access to the policy makers, people who haven't been consulted much by government in the past but who should have been contacted as a matter of course," it was added.

Serving with the public members of the panel will be the DMV Manager, Driver Improvement Analyst Mendietta, and Investigator L. Goldberg, who will provide technical expertise to the public panelists.

Volunteers to serve on the panel will be sought from among high school students, senior citizens, homemakers, salaried workers, and members of social and cultural organizations which are active in the community.

Panel participants will receive no remuneration or reward for their service, the manager stressed, "other than a personal reward for helping to influence government to be responsive to their needs."

With the panels expected to begin functioning in July, individuals interested in serving were urged by DMV to contact the local office soon.

Service on the panels, which will normally meet monthly, will require two to three hours a month of each member's time, the manager estimated.

Applications to serve on the "Backseat Driver" Public Panel and more information about the program can be obtained at the DMV office at 1500 Sullivan Ave., Daly City, or can be mailed to interested parties who phone the office.

Registration Set for Tennis

Late registration for summer first and second session of tennis classes will be accepted through June 25 at the South San Francisco Parks and Recreation Department offices located at 3 South Linden Ave.

Adult and children's classes are offered in the mornings, afternoons and evenings during the week and on weekends.

The four or eight week session will begin the week of June 28. Classes are limited in size to 2-8. Further information may be obtained by calling the department.

Louanne Heath

Have some extra hours on your hands these relaxed summer days? From Mary McCoy, Director of Volunteer services at Mary's Help Hospital comes word of a need for temporary volunteers.

With vacation time cutting into the hours regular volunteers have to offer, the volunteer office receives frequent requests for short term help in departments throughout the hospital. The volunteer office hopes to build up a file of names of persons who would enjoy temporary assignments.

Hopefully, new people who are unsure of how well they would fit into the volunteer program would feel this would be a way to become acquainted with people and facility. Former volunteers who have been forced to discontinue a heavy regular schedule might find this a way in which to continue their association with the hospital.

If temporary volunteer work sounds like the answer to your quandry call the volunteer office and speak with Mrs. McCoy.

The Thrift Shop, fund-raising project of the Bay Area Friends Outside Chapter, is in need of volunteer salespersons.

According to Mrs. Rudy Enberg, the shop is doing well and donations of clothes and useful appliances and furniture continue to come into the center at 136 Church St. in San Francisco.

Anyone wishing to work in the shop is invited to call 863-5100. Bargain hunters are welcome any week day from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

The success of the May Book Fair, sponsored by the Friends of the Daly City Library, has resulted in some very concrete benefits for local library users.

Money to buy a selection of 8 mm sound films and for the refurbishing of the Westlake library branch have been turned over to Librarian Samuel Chandler by the "Friends."

Vacation Church school opened on Monday at Lakeside Presbyterian Church and already reports of exciting events are emanating from that source.

Director of the school, Mrs. Esther Koopman and the church's director of Music, James Groves, have announced that the student body is preparing a cantata, based on the Biblical story of the feeding of the masses with the fishes and the loaves, for presentation next week. Children in the pre-kindergarten classes and all ages groups through sixth graders will present the cantata next Thursday evening, June 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the sanctuary of the church, located on Nineteenth Avenue at Eucalyptus Drive. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Groves will be leaving later today for San Luis Obispo, where the members of the church's youth Bell Choir will be taking part in the Area 12 Festival of the American Guild of English Handbell ringers. The bell ringers, with their bells, left Oakland this morning aboard Amtrak.

The group will return on Saturday, and the youths, most of whom are assisting with the Vacation Church school, will be back at their teaching posts Monday.

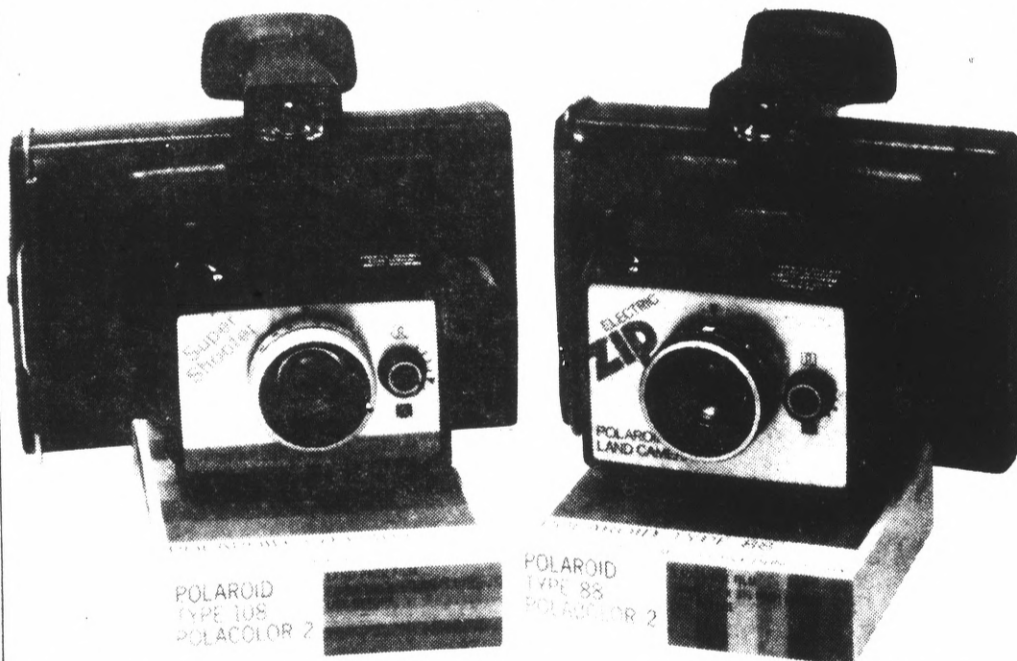

Would you enjoy housing an exchange student for a few days this summer?

San Francisco State and the Osaka City University have established an exchange student program and the first group of Japanese Students involved in this project will be arriving in this area on July 16. American homes are needed to house two sets of 10 students. The first group of 10 will be arriving on July 16 and will remain at the college until July 30 the Second group will arrive on July 30 and remain here until Aug. 15. The 20 families volunteering to take part in this project will be given a modest stipend to partially cover the expense of housing the young person.

For additional information about this program, call Professor Edith Yang Hobbs, 435-1709 or Dr. Harrison Holland, 469-2055.

A freeway proposal that would link San Bruno to the Pacifica coastline will face the first in a series of "unadoption" proceedings at the State Highway Commission meeting Thursday.

After years of controversy and conflict in the North County concerning the feasibility and practicality of completing controversial Route 380, it appears the proposal may be scrapped.

At the same time, the Metropolitan Transportation Commission is urging the state commission to study a less costly east-west transportation link for Pacifica.

The MTC has formally recommended that the state reopen a freeway route study that would include upgrading the winding three-lane Sharp Park Road, Pacifica's only access route from the east.

The Pacifica City Council — itself split on the need for a freeway — has supported upgrading of Sharp Park Road as long as the city doesn't have to pay. MTC Deputy Executive Director Paul Bay said the hearing Thursday will open a 90-day period in which proponents and opponents of the freeway may submit testimony.

Thursday's session is not intended to be a public hearing. Such hearings will be held in the coming months.

Ultimately, the State Highway Commission will decide whether to accept the MTC recommendation that 380 be dropped from the state highway plan.

Bay said Route 380 in 1973 was estimated to cost $50 million and probably costs as much as $70 million at today's construction rates.

Frankly, from our viewpoint, that's not really possible anymore — even from those who fully favor the freeway," Bay said.

If the state commission were to leave the route in its plan, there would be no action for many years, if at all, he said.

MTC's proposal that the state commission consider adopting Sharp Park Road into its plans might be a way to alleviate some of Pacifica's east-west access problems in the meantime, Bay said.

This is an opportunity for something much sooner," Bay said.

He said MTC officials are confident the state commission will take up a study of a new route along Sharp Park Road.

According to state law, the State Department of Transportation (Caltrans) is required to work with MTC in developing priorities for highway funding for local areas," Bay said.

MTC officials are not specifying what kind of alternative to Route 380 utilizing Sharp Park Road will be urged.

There is some apprehension in Pacifica because Caltrans has made it clear in the past it won't accept a road it considers below state standards.

Sharp Park Road is generally considered below those standards and unless Pacifica undertakes upgrading, it was not expected that the state would get involved in that highway.

City Manager Don Weidner said that despite assurances of MTC support for a 380 alternative, there's still no guarantee state or federal funding exists.

However, Mayor Janice Fulford said that in the past some rural roads throughout the state have been accepted in the state highway system through special legislation.

The implication by MTC she said, is that Sharp Park Road is to be treated in a similar manner.

However, she said any assumption by MTC that Pacifica will be able to contribute to upgrading the road to state standards is "an idle dream."

MTC officials could not provide details on the Sharp Park Road proposal.

Bay said the cost would be a fraction of building the full Route 380 but probably would involve more than a one-lane addition to Sharp Park Road.

The City Council in March voted to support a west bound lane addition to Sharp Park Road.

Our position on Sharp Park Road improvements is predicated upon receiving firm assurances of state and regional agencies for full funding of improvements, once Sharp Park Road has been accepted in the state system," Mrs. Fulford wrote to MTC Chairman John Beckett in March.

Fire Lights Up Coastside Skies

A spectacular fire lit up Coastside skies Sunday night as an abandoned house in the community of Princeton was completely destroyed.

Firemen for the Half Moon Bay Fire Protection District said today that the house, part of the old Skelley Ranch now owned by Half Moon Bay Properties, was completely involved on their arrival at 9:45 p.m.

The building has been abandoned for years, and has been the scene of several other fires which fire officials said they believe were started by juveniles playing there.

Eight regular firemen and 10 volunteers responded to the blaze, located east of the Half Moon Bay Airport.

Because of the earlier fires, and the building's abandoned status, it was decided to let it burn down completely because of its nuisance value.

No damage figure was attached to the blaze.

Early Monday, Coastside firemen were again called out to quell a grass fire caused when a woman crashed into a utility pole on Harvard Avenue in Princeton.

Officials said the unidentified woman sheared the pole off, and it fell to the ground, where sparking electrical wires touched off the grass fire.

The incident occurred at 1:02 a.m., and the blaze was quickly contained.

Daly City Boy Wins U-Haul Art Contest

Johnny Miller, age 4, of 860 Southgate Ave., Daly City, has won first prize in the fourth annual U-Haul U-Color contest. His prize, presented by Fred Wilkening, president of U-Haul Co. of San Francisco, is a new bicycle.

The contest, open to the children of U-Haul dealers and U-Haul co. employees, called for children to color a cartoon and draw or write their own ideas about do-it-yourself moving in America's history.

Johnny's grandfather is employed at Adair's Parking Service, Inc. in Roseburg.

The U-Haul Rental System has 14,000 dealers in 8,000 cities and towns in the United States and Canada, and serves the do-it-yourself moving needs of more than six million families every year.

Library Offers Various Programs

The Pacifica Library, Hilton Way at Palmetto, has planned a variety of children's programs for this biennial summer. For the young, ages 3 to 6, there is a story hour every Friday morning from 10:30 to 11.

During these half hours the children can listen to stories and participate in songs. Simple crafts will frequently be part of the story-hour.

Also on Fridays, the library will have a weekly children's film program. These films are for all ages and are held every Friday afternoon at 3:30.

This summer's films are based on children's books or experiences. Some titles are: Ananias, Doughnuts, Hansel and Gretel, and the Ugly Duckling.

Starting June 29 the library will have a weekly program of crafts or guest speakers.

Because this is the biennial summer, many of the craft programs will be based on crafts from America's past such as patchwork, turn of the century toys, weaving, and kite making. This summer's guest speakers will be Ann Velez from the Peninsula Humane Society and Bill and Jim Sousa who will demonstrate how to make and fly paper airplanes.

These craft programs will be every Tuesday at 2 p.m. from June 29 to Aug. 24. All library programs are free and all children are invited.

Now is the time to sign up your child for this summer's series of Twilight Pre-school Story Hours.

This series of seven story hours will be held at the Sanchez Library in the Linda Mar Shopping Center at 7 p.m. Mondays starting on July 12. Bring sleepers in pajamas or nightgowns and there will be stories, games and songs.

Through Good Food

Way to Combat Malnutrition

By MICHELLE CARTER
Post Staff Writer

"If your folks were poor, you're going to be poor and so will your baby be poor. . . . It's a lousy inheritance."

The words belong to actress Patricia Neal who narrates an ABC-TV documentary, "The Unfinished Child," which focuses on the effect infant malnutrition, both pre- and post-natal, has on maintaining the poverty cycle.

The film vividly describes how the lack of important nutrients in the diet of pregnant women, nursing mothers, infants and young children can cause mental retardation and "failure to thrive" in entire families of children.

Based on the findings of the staff at St. Jude's Children's Research Clinic in Memphis, Miss Neal concludes, there is no need to await the discovery of a miracle drug to alleviate this form of human suffering. "We already have it, lots of it. The answer is food."

Not just any food, but food high in protein, calcium, iron and vitamin C, in the regular diets of low-income families, research has shown, can turn the children of these families from dull, unresponsive, often retarded individuals who are likely to continue the poverty cycle in their own families into bright, alert and responsive children who may have a chance to break the chain.

The film focuses on the role the federally-funded nutrition program WIC (Women, Infants and Children) now is playing in getting these particular foods to the people who need them most.

WIC, which was born in the Senate Committee on Nutrition under the sponsorship of Senators George McGovern, Alan Cranston and Jacob Javits, initially was one of the social programs former President Nixon chose to impound in 1972 and '73. The U.S. Department of Agriculture, which is charged with administering the program, was taken into court to get the funds released.

Under court order, USDA launched the program in April, 1974, and it operated until July, 1975, when a new appropriation was needed. At this point, WIC was linked with the school lunch program in Congress, and President Ford vetoed the appropriation. Congress successfully overrode the veto, and WIC was in operation again by last October.

About 830,000 persons are being served by WIC programs throughout the country now, and some 1,600 of them live in San Mateo County.

The State Department of Health has authorized a vigorous WIC program which operates out of Drew Health Center in East Palo Alto. A group called the Urban Indians directs two smaller programs at Chope Community Hospital in San Mateo (serving 100 people) and at Guadalupe Health Center in Daly City (with a caseload of 300).

All three programs use a voucher system in which clients are issued coupons that may be redeemed for specific items at any grocery store. The coupons are guaranteed by the USDA which ultimately pays the grocer his price for the items.

A much larger WIC program, also using the voucher system, is in the planning stages at the San Mateo County Department of Health and Welfare. The new program will take over the caseload now served by the Urban Indians at Chope and the 100 or so families now on a waiting list for that program.

Fran Morrow (program deputy, health care, social services and eligibility for county health and welfare) has written a grant to the state health department for a WIC program with a caseload of 550 persons, according to Kathleen Wesner, public health nutritionist with the county.

The proposal has been to the Board of Supervisors once and the state has approved it. Now the supervisors must pass it one more time and then it has to be signed by state health officials. . . . It'll probably be Aug. 1 or mid-August before we get started.

When the county social services at Chope does get started with its program, no local money will be involved in its operation. Even administration costs are included in the WIC grant which is funneled through the state health department from USDA to San Mateo County.

Eligibility for the new WIC program will be fairly simple to establish. Income for WIC families must not exceed $9,000 a year for a family of four — 150 per cent of the poverty level in San Mateo County. They must live in San Mateo County. They must also be one of the first 350 eligible persons to apply.

Those pregnant women, nursing mothers, infants and children up to age four who do get into the program will receive vouchers (to be distributed at sites set up throughout the county) for milk, eggs, cheese, high-iron cereal and high-vitamin C juice.

Along with the food, WIC also provides nutrition information about the best way to use the food for the greatest benefit. In addition the program also demands "assessments" or regular medical check-ups to determine the amount of need for specific food items.

"This is an added benefit. Women who want to get on the WIC program get into to a doctor early in their pregnancy (to be "assessed" for the program), and regular medical care is provided for children who might never see a doctor," Miss Wesner added.

Most of the WIC clients already will be receiving their medical care at Chope or a neighborhood health clinic like the Fair Oaks Family Health Center in Redwood City. Eligible persons will be referred to the WIC program at Chope from their health care provider or will hear about it from friends and neighbors who are receiving benefits.

By setting the caseload at 550, Miss Wesner says they are hoping to pick up all the people on waiting lists within the county and still have some room for growth. Subsequent grants, she admits, probably will be for even greater caseloads as the WIC story spreads within the county.

But WIC is not the total answer to infant malnutrition, she believes.

"It doesn't do anything for the middle class and upper income levels where the need for nutrition education is great. In these cases, the problem is not lack of food, but the wrong kinds of foods. We have to get the word out."

DC, SSF Police In Big Drug Raid

A joint Daly City-San Francisco police investigation netted an alleged drug dealer and some $45,000 worth of hashish and marijuana Thursday in Daly City.

Arrested and charged with possession and possession of drugs for sale was Peter Brady Watson, 28, of 2542 San Bruno Ave., San Francisco.

Watson, an entertainment consultant, was arrested by Daly City Det. John Kirby and San Francisco Police Inspector Ron Limneous following an investigation that spanned several weeks, police said.

It was the second arrest of what police claim is a major drug distributor in recent days.

Some 30 pounds of high-grade Columbian marijuana and Nepalese hashish was confiscated in the arrest that took place in the 400 block of Brunswick Avenue, Daly City, shortly before 7 p.m. Thursday, police said.

Farewell Planned

Sister Mariana, Daughter of Charity and Community Liaison for Mary's Help Hospital, Daly City, will be leaving California for Denver, Colo., the first week of July.

She has made a contribution to the needs of the people, particularly to alcoholics and their families, and a farewell dinner will be held in her honor June 29 at 7 p.m. at Tino's of San Carlos.

Those interested in attending and meeting with her before her departure for Colorado are invited to make reservations through SAM, WRA Center, 181 Second Ave., Suite 200, San Mateo.

Driving Ruling Reversed

The District Court of Appeal Wednesday reversed a decision by San Mateo County Superior Court Judge Gerald R. Ragan that a state pilot project involving drunken drivers is unconstitutional because it is limited to four counties.

Unless the D.C.A.'s ruling is appealed to the California Supreme Court, the decision will end a series of contradictory rulings in San Mateo County.

The decision followed the lines rendered by San Mateo County Municipal Court Judge Thomas B. Caldwell several weeks ago.

The legal puzzle developed with these events:

The state legislature authorized a two-year pilot project which began Jan. 1 in four counties. The project paved the way for persons convicted for a second time of drunken driving to possibly save their driver's licenses, avoiding the mandatory suspension if they entered an alcoholism center program for treatment.

In a single case earlier this year involving a William R. Harden, Judge Ragan ruled that the project's limitation to four counties is a denial of equal protection.

Following the single case decision, attorney Dick W. Bennett of San Mateo challenged the state measure called SB 330 in the county's municipal courts.

Le Pacini

Some readers expressed interest in the part of last week's column where we broke down Giants' hitting statistics from last season to reflect how hitters fared against left-handed and right-handed pitching. For those of you who enjoy such esoteric exercises, following are some other such tidbits.

Willie Montanez was the best hitting Giant at Candlestick, with a .314 batting average in the friendly winds. Other .300 hitters at Candlestick were Von Joshua (.308), Steve Ontiveros (.307) and Derrel Thomas (.302). Bobby Murcer just missed the hallowed statistic, with a .299.

The worst hitter at home was Bruce Miller, with a .191, though he was given a good battle by Marc Hill, at .195.

The best road hitter was Joshua, .326, followed by Dave Rader, .320. Again, Murcer just missed, with a .298. Miller showed the biggest margin of difference, hitting .289 when away from home.

Worst road hitter was Gary Thomasson, who, with a .192, wasn't even challenged.

The best day hitter was, by golly, that rotten traded center fielder, Joshua, who was also the best night hitter. He was .327 and .310, respectively. Ontiveros (.298), Montanez (.297) and Gary Matthews (.294) were also proficient in the evening hours, as the entire Giants' team. Worst night hitter, by far, was Hill, with .177. The weakest day hitters were Thomasson (.229) and Miller (.241).

Joshua — again — was the best hitter with no runners on base (.319), but he also hit .314 with runners on base, behind in that category only to Montanez (.329) and Murcer (.321). Worst in the department among regulars was Matthews, who could hit only .252 with ducks on the pond, as they used to say.

BASEBALL MISCELLANY: Believe it or not, as we write this, the Giants have scored more runs than Pittsburgh — and made fewer errors than Oakland, Texas, California, Houston and Atlanta. The A's, in fact, have committed more than 30 per cent more errors than the Giants.

AS A PUBLIC SERVICE for those baseball fans who are confused over the major leaguers named Cruz, we herewith annotate their careers.

Jose Cruz, the current Houston outfielder, is the oldest, in point of age and service.

He is now in his seventh year of major league ball, and has played professionally since 1967, when he first signed with St. Louis. He is in his second season with the Astros, having put in three full and two partial seasons with the Cards.

He has for three of the past four years been pretty much a regular (he's not paying too much with Houston at this time), has a .249 lifetime major league batting average. He can run and steals a fair amount of bases, is a good fielder, and has fair power, once hitting 21 homers in the Texas League.

He is 27 years old, 6 feet tall, 170 pounds, and was born in Puerto Rico. He bats and throws left-handed.

His 23-year-old brother Hector is the man who made it possible for the Giants to have Ken Reitz playing third base for them this year. Cruz was the Minor League Player of the Year last season while playing mostly third base, after having been converted from an outfielder for the Cardinal farm club in Tulsa in the American Association.

After a string of fine seasons from the time he first signed with the Card organization in 1970, Cruz topped off what may have been the end of his minor league career by hitting .306 with 29 homers, driving in 116 runs and scoring 115.

He got a cup of coffee with the parent organization at the tail end of the 1973 season after hitting .328 with league-leading figures in homers (30), RBI (105) and runs scored (94) while with Arkansas in the Texas League.

Cruz hasn't done well with his cups of coffee in '73 and again last year, and he has gotten off to a slow start this season, having been benched for periods of time on a couple of occasions.

But the Cards still think that the 5-11, 175 pound right-handed swinger — who is still learning how to play third base — will be their hot corner man for a long future.

The last Cruz, Henry, is not related to the other two. He was born 24 years ago in St. Croix in the Virgin Islands, like Jose throws and swings from the left side, and like Jose is a 6-foot, 170-pound outfielder who can run and field.

He plays for the Dodgers here and there and in 53 games with them last year, after being called up from Albuquerque in the PCL, where he had been hitting .310 in the first 71 games of the season, he batted a respectable .266.

In pro ball since 1971, Cruz has little apparent power, with 19 doubles and eight homers while with Bakersfield in 1972 having so far been his best power season.

THINKING ABOUT THINGS:

Once, just once, we'd like to hear a relief pitcher say that he would be more effective if he wasn't used too often.

It may be obvious, but it occurs to us that it is foolish for anybody to compare pitchers — or any athlete, we suppose — with others after only a few sightings.

Many major league pitchers, for example, are capable of pitching one or two or even three games as well as the best two or three games that Bobby Feller ever pitched. But are their fourth, fifth and sixth best pitched games as good as the fourth, fifth and sixth best games that Bobby Feller pitched hundreds of times?

John Montefusco continually talks about his someday winning the Cy Young Award because he is such a great pitcher.

We hope that The Count isn't naive enough to think that merely being "great" is the only criteria to winning any such big award. Obviously, in a team game, the support of your mates has a lot to do with success. And one can never discount just plain luck.

To win the Cy Young Award, the name of the game is "Win." Strikeouts, shutouts, earned run average and such are merely window dressing if a pitcher wins 25 games.

The Count could strike out a man an inning this year, have a 2.50 ERA and lose half a dozen games 1-0, but if he wins only 12-15 times, he hasn't got a chance.

The same principle holds true for the hitter who finishes with a .300 batting average but had 60 line drives caught.

If just half of them fall safely, he wins a batting title. But what he should have had and what he got are two different things, and it's sad to say, and trite but true, but the only thing that really counts is what's in the box score the next day.

Is it only childhood memory, or did Joe Brovia, who sort of played the outfield for the Seals in the 40's and 50's and had a cup of coffee with Cincinnati in 1955, hit the hardest line drives we've ever seen?

It seems as if the term to describe such shots, "Blue Dart" was coined for him. And although it may take a more formidable baseball historian than we to prove it, we also believe that it was Brovia who put into vogue the long, lean look in baseball trousers. Wore 'em down to the ankles.

TAG END: We knew the ABA was in trouble when their commissioner, Dave DeBusschere, had to moonlight TV dinner commercials.

DC Play Starts

The Daly City Recreation Department Adult Softball Leagues are off to a fine start this season.

The Vets and Bayshore Baptist are leading the way in the Adult League as the Vets defeated the Turf Club 14-8 with a fine pitching performance by Tito Rodriguez, and the hitting of Steve Sammut who hit a three-run homer.

They also defeated Bayshore Baptist 18-8 as Perry Murphy played a fine defensive game and Russ Holmgren had four hits.

Bayshore Baptist bounced back to win two games as they defeated Tornberg Metal 15-2. Steve Joe made some outstanding defensive plays and left-fielder Dave Blank turned in a fine game.

The Baptists also defeated Wards 14-7 with Dino Dietrick and Rich Giosso leading the way. The Butterfingers edged Skyline Chevron 6-5 with the hitting of Ira Fern who went 3 for 4. The Butterfingers also defeated OLM Men's Club 6-3 with fine team performances.

The Turf Club got by Corpus Christi Whites 10-5 as Pete Calabro and Gillo Cosentino had three hits and three runs scored. Jeff Simon had four hits for the Turf Club.

The Turf Club defeated San Francisco Auditing by the same score 10-5 as Jay Fournet had three hits and Pete Calabro played fine defense.

In a slugger battle Tornberg Metal outlasted Mirandas 27-19. Outstanding defensive plays by Steve Rogers, Mike Wedemeyer led the way. San Francisco Auditing edged French A.C. in a very close game 7-6.

San Francisco Auditing won their second game defeating the Moose Lodge 18-16. Ron Koontz went four for five, Herb Ashton five for six and Dave Ward had three RBIs.

In the B League, Mayta and Jensen made it two in a row as they got by Reunion 17-13 with home runs coming from Jerry Regan and Rich Murray. They also defeated the Masterbatters 13-9 as Russ Woodworth went two for four and scored four runs. The Regal Selects got by Reunion 5-1 as the Selects turned in a fine team performance.

DC Man Receives Top Award

Recreation education leadership major Ken Duart of Daly City received the top award at the recent Skyline College Recreation Awards Banquet held on the campus.

Duart was awarded the "Glen E. Smith Inspirational Recreation Award" for 1975-1976. The honor is named for the retiring Chief of Recreation in San Mateo County and former SC instructor.

Duart is the first recipient of the annual award and will have his name inscribed on a perpetual plaque which will be kept in the Skyline College trophy case.

Graduating majors Penny Kanakakis of Millbrae and Jo-Anne Murphy of Millbrae also were honored as "Outstanding Recreation Students" and will have their names added to another perpetual plaque.

In addition, 12 other recreation majors received certificates for completing the college's recreation education-leadership program.

They included Jerry Anderson, South San Francisco; Dave Massoni, South San Francisco; Rory Poblit, Daly City; Terry Wertz, San Bruno; Lynn Mattman, Millbrae; Kim Miller, Pacifica; Frank Denucci, Millbrae; Mason Larkin, South San Francisco; Tom Predovich, San Francisco; Ray McCann, San Francisco; Connie Lamph, Daly City; and Debbie Rovegno, Pacifica.

Basketball Signups Set

Team sign-ups for the Daly City Summer High School Basketball League are now being accepted at the Recreation Office, 134 Hillside Blvd. Deadline for rosters is June 18. Fee is $15 per team.

Boys entering ninth grade and graduating seniors are eligible.

Vandalism

Pupils Will Help Protect Campuses

Twenty students will be hired in South San Francisco to patrol school campuses and keep a close eye on vandalism this summer.

The unified school district's Board of Trustees in recent months has been concerned, particularly about the vandalism throughout the 21-school district, despite a three-year-old anti-vandalism program.

Summer vandalism losses tend to run particularly high, according to Stan Haney, buildings and grounds director. In fact, he said, the district loses anywhere from $4,000 to $5,000 in vandalism every summer — about twice as much as during the nine school months.

So, the district vandalism study group (parents, police department representatives and district staff members) has proposed the summer patrol program from June 21 to Aug. 12.

The 20 students, ages 15 to 17, will be assigned in pairs to patrol 10 of the schools.

The students will work five evenings a week, Friday through Wednesday from 5 o'clock to 9 o'clock.

While they are on duty, the students also will be responsible for picking up litter on the school campus.

The school district has appropriated $105 to purchase bright-colored wind-jackets and clipboards for the students on patrol.

Each student will turn in a daily checklist reporting any vandalism that may have occurred.

The Police Department, Haney said, will have a patrol car periodically stop by each school to check on the students.

Cavaliers Defeat Stoners

Hot-shooting Daryle Pierson and Clarence Benjamin led the front-running Cavaliers to a 50-43 victory over the Stoners in the finals of the Daly City High School Recreation League last week at Westlake Community Center.

The Cavaliers held a narrow two-point margin in the tight contest midway through the fourth quarter when Pierson and Benjamin combined for seven unanswered points. Crucial rebounds grabbed by Cavalier Mike Lewis aided the fourth quarter charge. Pierson led all scorers with 19, while Benjamin followed with 18.

Adolfo Sandoval paced the Stoners' scoring attack with 15, while Rob Anderson and Pete Malas added 11 and 10, respectively.

Registration for Summer Recreation League for high school boys is now open. Team sign-ups will be taken through June 18 at the Recreation Office, 134 Hillside Blvd. Play starts June 22 at Westmoor High. Boys ninth through twelfth grades who live in or go to school in Daly City are eligible.

Aquatics Place in Swim Meet

Nine swimmers from the South San Francisco Aquatics Club made an excellent showing in the Newark "A" Swim Meet held at Ohlone College May 22-23.

Anthony Boccaleoni placed in five events: first in the 50 back, fifth in the 50 fly, fifth in the 50 breast, sixth in the 100 free, and seventh in the 50 free.

Chuck Brabec won four ribbons: first in the 200 back, sixth in the 200 free, seventh in the 100 back, and seventh in the 400 I.M.

Bernice Nava broke another "AA" time and placed second in the 50 free. She also placed third in the 50 breast and fifth in the 100 back.

Kevin Regan also won three ribbons: fifth in the 200 breast, fifth in the 400 I.M., and sixth in the 200 fly.

Winning one ribbon each were Jodi Ruiz — eighth in the 200 free, Tim Frenzel — sixth in the 100 breast, Rick Frenzel — fifth in the 100 breast, Jeff Smallwood — sixth in the 50 free, and Robin Dunham — eighth in the 50 free.

Nearby homeowners will be contacted and asked to cooperate in allowing the use of phones if students on patrol run into any emergencies.

Nick Crusick, welfare and attendance coordinator said the students' salaries this summer will be funded by the Neighborhood Youth Corps as a pilot project.

If the program is successful and the district wants to continue it, other financing means will need to be located in the future, he said.

Haney said summer traditionally is "a disastrous time for us" in terms of vandalism losses.

During the school year, the district offers an incentive program to deter vandalism. Each campus is given $1 per student, and any vandalism costs are deleted from that school's account.

Money left over in the account at the end of the year is used by the student body for a project of its choice.

However, despite that program, vandalism in the school district amounted to $11,665 from March 1975 to February 1976 — a $4,000 increase over the 1973-74 vandalism when the program started.

Committee member Claire D'Amico said the vandalism problem also rests with parents who should be teaching their children not to destroy property.

"Somewhere along the line we have to get back on the track of teaching children," she said.

One parent objected to what she called "just another trial program."

"The adults are saying we are not able to handle authority, so we will put it in the hands of the children," said Mrs. Ruth Fee. She said the program is "another diversion tactic as far as responsibility is concerned."

The program, she said, puts children in the position of being policemen over other children.

Trustee Ken Austin said the program is rather a sharing of responsibility and that there is something to be said for granting more responsibility to young people.

ROOKIE ON THE JOB

Daaahjeck and his partner, Don Culbertson, survey the scene with a dog. County sheriff's officer John Edmunds and his dog, Nerf.

Hardly Ho-Hum

Rookie Dog's First Day Memorable One

By JANET PARKER

South San Francisco's rookie police dog isn't likely to forget his first day on the job.

Two-year-old Daaahjeck — barely out of his training collar — put in a shift that started with a bomb threat during the night and ended with the mass arrest of 29 pickets 15 hours later — both incidents at the Folger Coffee Co.

It was hardly a ho-hum day.

Daaahjeck has been training for three months with his master, owner and partner, Officer Don Culbertson.

The vivacious German shepherd saw a few things that were straight out of the county sheriff's police dog training school manual.

"He did an excellent job," said his proud partner. "He didn't try to run off or break loose."

Culbertson said Daaahjeck kept a close eye on the South San Francisco officers and was ready to jump to their side in an emergency.

Daaahjeck spent most of his first day on the sidelines.

But the anxious rookie did have a few moments of glory.

He joined Nerf — a county deputy sheriff's dog — in escorting a company truck through a line of pickets.

And when non-striking company personnel tried to close a warehouse door as pickets stood in the way, Daaahjeck moved in.

Daaahjeck maneuvered behind picketing warehousemen at the warehouse door and soon there were eight or nine men running out of the building — with the German shepherd in hot pursuit.

Culbertson said the South City officers would have had even more trouble without Daaahjeck.

"He was super protective of me and the other officers," Culbertson said. And he certainly got his exposure to the city's industrial area, he added.

Daaahjeck is the second dog on the South City force. He joins Roy, who is handled by Officer Art Humm.

Before becoming a police dog, the new recruit belonged to a Redwood City woman. In fact, he's likely to be one of the few police dogs who was originally purchased at the Peninsula Humane Society.

When Culbertson and Daaahjeck finally went home at 2 p.m., they both caught an afternoon's sleep and were back on the job at 7 p.m.

"He was growling in his sleep," Culbertson said. "I don't know if it was dreams or nightmares."

Good morning, good cooks. If we were going to play the "What's your favorite pie?" game, the probable winner would be apple. In fact the only complaint about pie baking seems to be that a single pie doesn't serve enough people. Well, that problem will be solved in this apple dessert, for it serves 12.

SUPER APPLE SLICES

Crust
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup shortening
2 egg yolks
6 tablespoons

Sift the two cups flour with the half teaspoon salt into bowl. Cut in the three-fourths cup shortening. Blend the two egg yolks with the six tablespoons water. Sprinkle egg-water mixture over flour, one tablespoon at a time, tossing lightly with a fork until particles stick together when pressed gently. Shape into a smooth ball.

Divide the dough into two parts. Place half the dough between two long sheets of waxed paper which have been lightly floured. Roll out the dough to fit a 9x13x2-inch baking pan. (Don't be afraid of handling the dough. I did a lot of mending and patching to shape it to the sides of the pan.) Roll out the second half of the dough between paper and place over the top of apple filling. Cut small gashes in top.

Filling

3 pounds apples
1 cup water
1 1/4 cups sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 cup cold water

Pare and core the three pounds apples and slice into eighths. In a large saucepan combine the cup water, one and one-fourth cups sugar, one teaspoon cinnamon and fourth teaspoon salt. Bring to boiling point. Add the sliced apples and cook slowly for 10 minutes. Blend the two tablespoons cornstarch with the fourth cup water and add to the hot mixture. Cook 5 minutes longer, stirring gently. Cool 10 minutes.

Spread the cooled apples over bottom crust. Cover with top crust and cut small gashes in crust. Bake 450-degree oven for 20 minutes, reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 30 minutes longer.

Cool and sprinkle very lightly with powdered sugar.

Insanity Ruling

'Demons'

A Pacifica man, who told police that "the demons made me do it," after he stabbed to death 87-year-old Laura Dunnigan of Pacifica March 1, was found not guilty by reason of insanity Thursday.

Superior Court Judge Alan Haverty rendered his decision based on reports presented by two court-appointed psychiatrists and a psychiatrist retained by Carl Casperson's attorney, Steven Grier.

Mrs. Dunnigan, owner of the old "Snug Harbor" motel in Pacifica, was stabbed once in the heart with a large butcher knife.

According to prosecutor John E. O'Leary, county medical officials next week will determine whether Casperson, a 28-year-old civil engineer, should be confined in a state, local or private institution for 90 days.

After those 90 days, Casperson can petition the court for a hearing to determine if he has regained his sanity. If he has, he can be released. If he hasn't, he will be confined for another year before he can re-petition the court, according to O'Leary.

The prosecutor said that Casperson withdrew the first element of his dual plea of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity, and based the court proceeding on the sanity issue only.

That procedure, O'Leary said, is tantamount to admitting guilt.

Each psychiatrist said that Casperson was insane at the time of the killing suffering from paranoia and schizophrenia. He is still insane, they agreed.

Authorities said that Casperson, who had been receiving treatment as an out-patient for his mental disorders, had known Mrs. Dunnigan for 14 years. She was a friend of Casperson's mother.

At her home March 1, "he began to have thoughts that it might be Mrs. Dunnigan's time to go... that I'm supposed to do it," according to psychiatrist Charles Casella's report to Judge Haverty.

"He began to feel that there was another power in the residence. He denied hallucinating, but states, something told me you have got to do it. It felt like there was somebody working on him mentally... that there was the devil in the house... he thereupon forcibly entered the door and stabbed the victim," Casella stated.

According to San Mateo psychiatrist Richard Levy, Mrs. Dunnigan said, "Oh, Carl, what are you doing?" as he kicked open her bedroom door.

Levy said after Casperson stabbed the woman he called his mother and told her. She called police.

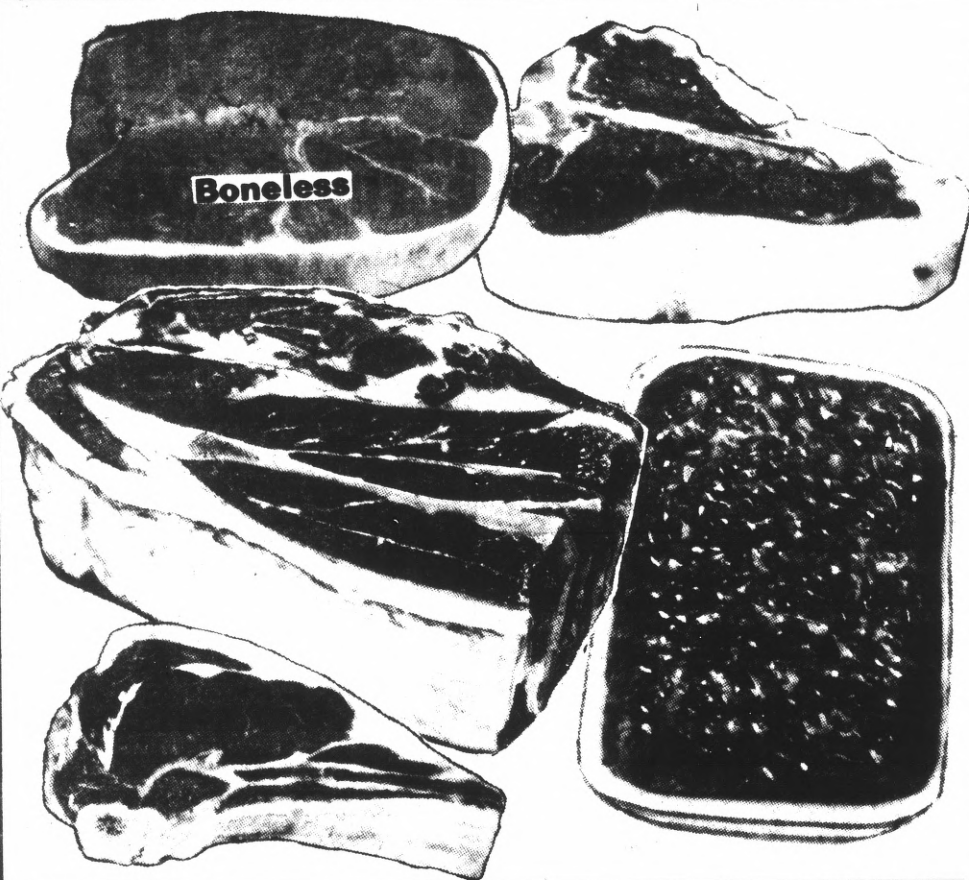

Authorities said that a police dispatcher called the Dunnigan residence and that Casperson answered the telephone. After saying that Mrs. Dunnigan was not home, he reportedly said, "I killed her."

According to Levy, when police arrived Casperson said he told them, "the demons made me do it," and that "she had him mesmerized."

Psychiatrists said that Casperson first began treatment for paranoia in 1974.

200 Protest Principal Transfers in South San Francisco

By JANET PARKER
More than 200 picketing and protesting parents, teachers and students appealed to the South San Francisco school board Wednesday night to reconsider the planned transfer of seven elementary school principals.

The trustees said they will respond to the community's complaints on Tuesday night.

The angry crowd jammed the South San Francisco Unified School District offices until the meeting was forced to move into the adjacent school auditorium.

The trustees kept the crowd waiting 1 hour and 10 minutes while they held an executive session concerning a student expulsion matter.

Seven principals officially learned this week that the district administration has planned for their rotation.

Word spread to the community and delegations from most of the seven schools protested the transfers as being arbitrary.

They demanded that the board of trustees adopt a formal policy for the transfer of administrative personnel and that it immediately reconsider the transfer of the seven principals.

Most of the principals, they charged, are in the midst of working out educational programs to satisfy federal requirements for bilingual education.

Board president Tom Henkle told the assembly that the board will consider the community's concerns and take action.

He was urged by vocal protesters to cite a specific date.

"We do not want you to wait a week, two weeks or three, until you think we have cooled off," said Fran Watkins, a Los Cerritos School teacher.

Henkle said if the answer is as important as the community indicates it feels, the people will let the board have time to think it over.

The district administration has planned the transfer of Frank McNutt, Spruce School; Michael Miyahira, Junipero Serra; Eugene Sunia, Serra Vista; Barbara Loveless, Skyline; Emanuele Damonte, Los Cerritos; Romolo Braschi, Sunshine Gardens; and Doyle Ficken, Martin School.

Only one elementary school principal — Dr. Lenore Jacobsen of Ponderosa School — has not been scheduled for a transfer. Parents wanted to know why she was singled out.

Signs reading "Martin needs Mr. Ficken" and "Stop playing musical chairs" bobbed in the background as speakers paraded before the board. The crowd yelled and applauded as speakers confronted the board.

Mrs. Watkins asked why only the elementary school principals were involved and why the community was not consulted about the transfers.

Henkle responded that a transfer at this time would be inappropriate in the high, where only three of the four have been at their schools for some time, and at the high schools, where only two would be involved.

"If we have to go to the public every time we have to make a decision, we'll never get anything done," Henkle said.

"You are a lay person," Mrs. Watkins said. "Your job is to interpret public thought."

"We've chosen to take the elementary school principals first because it is the age where educational programs have to be started," Henkle said. The reply was met with boos.

A Spruce School parent, Celine Ranka, said that six transfers of principals were necessary last year because of ill feelings after a two-week-long teacher strike.

"No such situation exists at this time," she said. The Spruce School principal should be permitted to stay at that campus to continue work in special bilingual programs, she said.

One of the principals, Frank McNutt of Spruce, asked why he is being transferred and suggested it is because he has tried to implement bilingual programs at Spruce.

"Am I being transferred because my school has been in fiscal opulence when the district is in financial crisis?" he asked. "I wouldn't be surprised."

"How long must this go on," McNutt said. "A beautiful district that could be a model is being ruined by this action."

Transfers, he said, should be carried out by policy, not by whim.

A Martin School parent said the parents are asking only for a one-year extension so that the principal, Doyle Ficken, may continue to implement a bilingual program in the fall.

Only one parent, Mrs. Marge Blank, spoke in support of the district's transfer plans.

"Educational growth can only be done in transition," she said. "Principals will be challenged by their move."

One trustee, Val Lambertson, said she is in favor of principal rotation but has some reservations about carrying out transfers this year without a written policy.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Bright Lights Devoted To Dining and Vacation

In lieu of our regular Bright Lights' columns entirely devoted to vacation news, Nevada night life and today, we are bringing you a special 28-page tabloid clubs covering the Peninsula from San Francisco to San Jose.

This is your Bright Lighter's 17th annual Vacation Edition and you will find it full of relevant news regarding trips, tourist attractions and fine dining and entertainment establishments.

We here in the Golden West have more opportunities for places to visit than most citizens. So take advantage of what is being offered, whether it is a camping excursion to Yosemite Park, or a three-day jaunt to sunny San Diego, or a trip across the border into Mexico.

And whether your choice to cruise, drive or fly, be sure to take your time and arrive at your destination safely. Happy vacation time to you and your families.

HALF MOON BAY

A. SABELLA'S
Fisherman's Wharf
San Francisco
771-6775

Seafood is the specialty of this atmospheric three-story restaurant structure which offers elevator service as well as validated parking at the Wharf Garage, 350 Beach street. A. Sabella's has been one of Fisherman's Wharf's most popular restaurants, having been founded by Antone Sabella in 1920. The secrets of Sabella's food preparation have been handed down from father to son for four generations, many of which have often been imitated but never duplicated. The highly selective menu offers a variety of ocean food as well as red meats and salads. Banquets are also a specialty with seating capacity from 25 to 450. Today, Lucian Sabella, along with his sons and the able assistance of his mother Angelina (who oversees the kitchen operation) continue on the highly successful operation just as founder Sabella would desire. Restaurant open 11 am. to midnight seven days a week.

AMERICAN OMELETTE
147 East Third Avenue
San Mateo
348-9449

Vazken and Arax Kizirian are the Armenian owners of this superb restaurant specializing in all varieties of omelettes and sandwiches. Especially the omelettes. One of the most favorites is No. 16 — it's a ham, avocado, tomato and cheese combination. Decor is Early American, with heavy oak picnic benches stained very dark and Tiffany-style lamps. The Kizirians report that at the end of the month, or the first of July, they plan to add pizzas to their ever-expanding menu. Vasken takes pride in his omelettes which are a combination of French and American-cooking styles deftly blended and prepared in a heavy-bottomed pan, covered with your choice of sauce or ingredients.

AQUARIUM, SHERATON INN
1177 Airport Boulevard
Burlingame
348-3663

This dining room, considering the surroundings of many massive fish tanks and exotic tropical fish, is aptly named. Located on the ground floor of the new Sheraton Inn, the Aquarium has developed into a bustling mecca for businessmen lunches, dinners, Sunday brunch and lively lounge entertainment. The latest happenings here include a new Sunday brunch menu that's the talk of the Peninsula. Omelettes, Crepes, Eggs Benedict and even a hearty steak and eggs platter are offered; all brunches include a Champagne Peach Cocktail, sour dough rolls, Lyonnaise Potatoes and coffee. The fabulous Tony Hall Show is currently featured in the hotel's spacious lounge.

ARA'S RESTAURANT
1318 Burlingame Avenue
Burlingame
348-9920

Ara and Noji Sahakian are proud of their downtown Burlingame establishment and the fact that everything here is homemade. Breakfast specialties are served throughout the day. Dinners, a favorite with travelers, are highlighted by Armenian-style Shish Kebob with Pilaf as well as Lamb Shank and Short Ribs. Prices are reasonable. During the day Ara and Noji offer the Pita Burger. This is a special hamburger with sauce and onions on Pita Bread, which is imported daily from Fresno. An Armenian salad called Tabula is served with meals. Beer and wine are available. The owners are cordial people who encourage that customers meet and chat with them.

ALFRED'S
886 Broadway
San Francisco
781-7058

Owners Art Petri and his son Al maintain an incredibly high standard when it comes to the finest grades of beef. The result is a steakhouse heralded by gourmets from all over the world. A well-balanced menu of steaks, Italian specialties and seafood, with emphasis on Continental service by some of the most professional waiters in the business. Each table tastefully decorated with fresh flowers daily; shining crystal. Open seven days a week for diners only. The Burgundy and Gold Rooms are perfect for group entertaining or special occasions. Valet parking available; reservations advised.

BEARDSLEY'S
El Camino and Broadway
Burlingame
343-5976

Paintings by the famous English artist Aubrey Vincent Beardsley provide a major "conversation piece" at this atmospheric lunch-dinner restaurant owned and operated by Jack O'Brien, Les Hylton and Pat Finnegan. Specialty of the house is prime rib prepared in rock salt. A variety of beef and seafood combinations are also available. Dinners come complete with homemade soup, salad and baked potato. The Upstairs Room is one of the Bay Area's largest banquet facilities. A pianobar in the Lounge provides entertainment seven nights a week from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Luncheon Monday through Friday from 11:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Two fireplaces in the main dining room add to the artistic atmosphere.

BELLA VISTA RESTAURANT
13451 Skyline Boulevard
Woodside
851-1229

Situated in the redwoods on scenic Highway 35, the Bella Vista is under the capable management of Bob and Jeannette Hogan, who feel their picturesque location affords a unique view of the Bay. Hence quaintness and charm. Dinners served nightly except Monday. Entrees include filet mignon, New York Steak, Porterhouse, Chicken Saute Sec Bella Vista (in white wine and with fresh mushrooms), pan-fried chicken and Frog Legs Bella Vista. Abalone is

BERTOLUCCI'S
421 Cypress
South San Francisco
588-1625

This restaurant dates back to 1928 when Joe Bertolucci originally opened Joe's Blue Room. From a boarding house and bar designed for laborers in the nearby steel mill, this restaurant has become one of the most sought-out dining establishments in the Bay Area. As almost everyone knows, Bertolucci's is a haven for celebrities of all types: sports figures, politicians and movie stars. Refurbished in the early 1960's with an elegant Florentine decor, it wasn't long before Mama Bertolucci's Canneloni became world famous. Now under the management of daughter Lola and son Larry, Bertolucci's remains a very successful operation. Several veal dishes have recently caught the public's

Charles Krug Is Pioneer In the Wine Industry

According to historical fact, Charles Krug was the first man to produce wine in Napa County.

It all began when Krug came to the United States in 1852. He immediately began to search for fertile soil for agricultural development ... six years later he became a pioneer who would set the trend for many others.

Within three years Krug had his own vineyard and winery and was President of the Viti-cultural Association and a State Viticultural Commissioner.

The traditions of Charles

Krug live on today in the form of his successor, C. Mondavi & Sons, as their present line-up of wine will attest.

"The fine wines of the world are the result of care, patience and an inborn love of wine" claim the Mondavi people.

The Oak Room, formerly Krug's carriage house and stables, is now the core of the present buildings containing the finest equipment known to the art of wine making. A bottling room and warehouse are more recent additions to the Mondavi enterprise, as are house offices and glass-lined storage tanks.

Even today the Mondavi family produces a line of wines standing at the fore of California's finest.

Lou offers a wide variety of sandwiches, chief among which is the three-decker Dagwood. Bumstead, a challenge to anyone's appetite. You are defied to finish it. Our personal favorite is the El Camino, an open-faced concoction incorporating sliced turkey, Swiss cheese, sliced tomatoes and hard-boiled eggs. You are encouraged by Lou Romson to watch your food being prepared in the deli portion of the restaurant. When it comes to sandwiches, you'll find it hard to beat this informal spot. Does special catering for home and office parties.

Tanforan Park Garden Restaurants

Located on the lower level of one of Northern California's most beautiful shopping centers, the ultra-modern Garden Restaurant complex offers patrons a choice of nine distinctively different dining establishments. Obviously, considering the fact that each restaurant specializes in certain menu items, patrons are confronted with a huge selection of menu items.

Steaks and Chicken Unique is aptly named. Numerous cuts of steak, chicken and fresh salads are the attractions here, along with a solid selection of Italian dishes. But this restaurant truly specializes in quality steaks, each prepared with a flair.

A vast array of Chinese dishes can be found at King Wong Chinese, where a remarkable selection of a la carte items appeals to budget-conscious patrons. Complete dinners, as well, along with a bustling business in take-out items.

Pizza and several different types of franks are the main attractions at Red Carpet Hot Dog and Pizza. The deluxe giant hot dogs are great favorites with just about everyone. The usual breakfast egg items and quite a choice of omelettes are also prepared to order here.

The newest restaurant in the complex is Creative Sandwiches. Roast beef to pastrami to meat loaf to a marvelous avocado with bacon covers the wide-ranging selection available. All sandwiches are reasonably priced. Lunch plates, too.

A remarkable amount of business takes place on a daily basis at Hof's Brau, which features lunches, dinners, side orders and several moderately-priced daily specials.

And, if it's a hamburger you're looking for, you'll find 17 different types of that great American favorite at The Hamburger Inn.

An extraordinary number of menu selections can always be found at Amigo Mike's, where combination specials are also emphasized. One combination that's a great favorite includes chile relleno, a taco and a beef enchilada.

Donut World is as the name implies. Here's a haven for just about every type of donut and pastry imaginable and all the appropriate beverages. As for ice cream, the name Swensen's manages to speak for itself. Quality ice cream and an impeccable reputation are always associated with this fountain-type establishment.

A "come as you are" family atmosphere prevails at the Tanforan Garden Restaurants, which also has a seating capacity for over 500.

So popular has been the evening trade, in fact, that Jovanelo's is now open for dinners on Sundays. All dinners served with antipasto Italiano, prosciutto con melon or mixed green salad, caneloni della casa, dessert and beverage. The Hide-Away Banquet Room is available for special occasions. Complete with private bar.

RECEPTION FOR DIGNITARIES

George Mardikian (second from right) and Mrs. Mardikian were present during a recent meeting between President Ford (far right) and Arch Monson (left), national president of the Boy Scouts of America. Mardikian, who owns and operates Omar Khayyam's Restaurant of San Francisco, is an Eagle Scout, the highest rank in scouting, as were the other two gentlemen present.

kian, who owns and operates Omar Khayyam's Restaurant of San Francisco, is an Eagle Scout, the highest rank in scouting, as were the other two gentlemen present.

George Mardikian Nominated to American Restaurant Magazine's Hall of Fame

Credit is due Robert Grierson for the following article from American Restaurant magazine:

"Pursuing two careers simultaneously and making an outstanding success of both is the record of a well-known restaurant personality in San Francisco—George Mardikian, owner of the celebrated Omar Khayyam's on Powell Street.

As a restaurateur, he has won admiration of the bon vivants of the world as well as thousands of persons across this country, and in his career of public service (a labor of love for which he refuses to accept any compensation), he has achieved even greater recognition.

And recently, Mardikian was nominated for a place in American Restaurant Magazine's Hall of Fame.

Mardikian's life story is an inspiring one, filled with accomplishments.

To take note of his restaurant achievements first:

George Mardikian arrived in San Francisco in 1922, a young Armenian refugee, filled with gratitude for his admission to the United States. He wandered into the gay and popular restaurant known as "Coffee Dan's" and asked for a job. He got it—as a $12 a week dishwasher.

Today he owns that same restaurant. Remodelling it to unique beauty, and adorning it with exquisite Rubiat illustrations, he renamed it Omar Khayyam's.

The astonishingly quick success of the restaurant was due largely to Mardikian's genius for cooking. The first few years of operation he took complete charge of cuisine, establishing the style and standards that have brought visitors from everywhere to taste his delicacies and return to their homeland rhapsodizing. He made a specialty of lamb entrees and aroused interest with unusual combinations of ingredients. He has written a book, "Dinner at Omar Khayyam's," in which many of his famous recipes are incorporated. Names of many notables figure in his restaurant "Autograph Book," which visitors fill with comments on his savory creations.

Mardikian's public service career is astounding. Aside from the extraordinary ability and organizing skill revealed, the mere matter of finding time for all the enterprises is formidable. One of the public services that has won him the gratitude of GI's was accomplished through his work as a food consultant to the U.S. Army.

Visiting innumerable army camps in Europe and the Far East, he made reports to authorities which brought about the transformation of Army chow into better meals with eye appeal and variety. These official reports on the army food situation contained (in more formal phraseology) his personal comment to General Fales after an inspection of Camp Roberts.

"General, you have about the best food and the worst meals I've ever seen."

His energy in establishing cooking seminars and working out menus, etc., earned him the title "The GI's Chow Champion."

He is the recipient of many testimonials and a medal of freedom for his various services to the U.S. Government.

Mardikian is a director of the Golden Gate Restaurant Association, a member of San Francisco's Bohemian Club, Olympic Club, Commonwealth Club, California Historical Society, Save the Children Federation, and a member-at-large of the Boy Scouts of America.

The American Restaurant Magazine is proud to add George Mardikian to its ever-growing Hall of Fame."

Vince's Italian and Seafood Restaurant a Tradition

Tony and Lou Licata have taken over Vince's Seafood-Italian Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge, located at 1528 El Camino Real in San Mateo, and they are continuing to build the business started by their late father, Vince Licata.

The reputation of Vince's Restaurant, that it is "The Fisherman's Wharf of the Peninsula," is justified. Everything the ocean has to offer is listed on the menu or is available at Vince's open air seafood depot, which is just a few steps north of the restaurant.

In the after section of the depot is the seafood delicatessen and poultry addition featuring delicacies for the home table.

The entire Licata family has worked many years to establish this successful business and carry out their father's theme that "the family that works together stays together."

Vince's will enjoy a vacation starting Sunday, June 13, through July 5 and will reopen Tuesday, July 6.

In the meantime, bear in mind that the restaurant is open for luncheon and dinner daily from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. and Friday and Saturday from 11 a.m. to midnight.

Bay Meadows 'Friendly Race Track'

Bay Meadows is truly a race track for all seasons, with the trotters and pacers starting off each year with their winter meeting, followed by quarter horses in the spring and the racing portion of the San Mateo County Fair in the summer.

Then comes the piece de resistance: the long autumn season of thoroughbred racing, which is highlighted by the annual renewal of the $100,000 added California Juvenile Stakes. The Juvenile is the final leg of a Western triple crown for two year olds and one of the top events in the Nation for the freshman class.

Last year, Telly's Pop, owned by Telly Savalas and Howard Koch, became the first youngster to capture all three jewels in the triple crown, which starts with the Del Mar Futurity and is followed by the Norfolk Stakes at Santa Anita.

The quarter horse meeting features the two richest races in California for the short liners in the $160,000 Bay Meadows Futurity for two year olds and the $200,000 Golden State Derby for three year olds.

The harness season always lures top horses, along with many of the most accomplished drivers in the sulky sport.

Haute cuisine is alive, well and flourishing at this elegant French restaurant in downtown San Mateo. The brothers, Wagner, Fernand and Norbert, along with brother-in-law Rene Chagniot, are the talented gentlemen responsible for creating the quality and prestige associated with this restaurant. Fernand, the award-winning chef, is practically a legend when his regular patrons begin mentioning the restaurant's numerous Alsatian specialties. Besides the entrees, the same quality and attention to detail also prevails in preparing hors d'oeuvres, soups, salads and desserts. Dinners are served a la carte or complete, and just one of Fernand's exquisite creations is Carre d'Agneau Printaniere (a marvelous Rack of Lamb). While Fernand performs his kitchen artistry, Rene is your gracious host and Norbert tends to the cocktail lounge in the comfortable lounge. Dinner service each evening, except Sunday. The Viscos report that it's just a matter of time before they expand their operation. Open seven days a week from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m.

San Francisco Fun Cruise

The Tiburon Champagne Dinner Dance Cruise may sound a bit bombastic, but it's a concise way of summing up what is in store for you should you wisely decide to take one of the most fun trips now being offered in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Daily Tiburon luncheon cruises are offered at 12 noon for $8 per person. All cruise ships leave from Fisherman's Wharf.

PARDINI'S GARDEN GROTTTO
333 Broadway

In addition to all that, there is a European-style patio for outdoor dining. Luncheons and dinners with seafood, beef and Italian dishes among the chief items. Pardini is fast becoming one of the Peninsula's leading restaurateurs.

PHIL LEHR'S STEAKERY
S. F. Hilton Tower
San Francisco
673-6800

Although Phil Lehr's Steakery with the carriage entrance is presently closed for renovation, and may not be reopened for some months, his new steakery in the basement of the Hilton Tower is going full-blast. Phil Lehr is still employing the pay-by-ounce system—in other words you cut your steak to your own specifications—the size will then determine the final cost of the dinner. This new Steakery is the tops in elegance—we cannot recommend it too highly. The New York, Filet Mignon and Rib Eye Steaks are still the highlights here, with other specialties including the Steak Diane and the Beef Wellington. The latter is a fork-tender filet mignon topped with pate and a California cling peach half, then wrapped in a pastry shell and baked to golden perfection.

PRIMROSE GARDENS
1161 Burlingame Avenue
Burlingame
347-9462

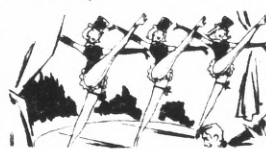

Phil Bertetta and Rick Plume are two young Peninsula restaurateurs who are now operating this lively entertainment spot in Burlingame. The acts are constantly changing here (nightly from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.) so check their schedule for up-to-the-minute openings. By mid-June Phil and Rick hope to have their luncheons in full swing. The atmosphere is a combination of plaids, wood and a cozy fireplace. Open seven nights a week.

PLACE PIGALLE
3721 Buchanan Street
San Francisco
931-5644

Owner Hans Behringer is to be commended for showcasing an outstanding French restaurant featuring cuisine intended for gourmets who know good fresh Frog Legs Provencale when they taste it. In the tradition of Continental cooking, many of the dishes are flambéed right at the table. The decor captures the flavor of the Montmartre section of Paris that is famed for its Place Pigalle Square. Other specialties include Coquille St. Jacques, Honeycomb Tripe a la Mode de Caen and Boned Squab Stuffed with Wild Rice. Chateaubriand Bouquetiere for two is another favorite. Small and large banquet rooms are available for special entertaining. Behringer, a distant cousin of the famous wine family in Germany, offers about 95 different varieties of wine, both domestic and imported, to augment your cuisine dining. Open Tuesday through Sunday.

PLAYBOY CLUB
Jackson and Montgomery
San Francisco
434-2550

The home of the playbunnies—those bountiful beauties in the scanty costumes—and the home of a showroom which regularly features some of the country's leading musicians, singers and comedians. Opening Monday, June 14, is actress Sue Anne Langdon, who is best remembered for her role in the TV comedy series "Arnie," as well as a string of motion pictures: "The Rounders," "The Cheyenne Social Club," and "The Great Impostor." Although the press releases fail to mention just what Miss Langdon will be doing, we assume she will be singing. Tonight and tomorrow are the last nights for comedian John Regis.

ROMANO'S
Rockaway Beach
Pacifica

There's something about a pizza at Enrico Romano's coastside Italian dinner-pizza parlor that can't be captured by other establishments specializing in the same circular, salami-topped objects. We can't quite put it into words, but Romano performs some form of legerdemain to make his pizzas so much in demand. Romano's also specializes in family-style, full-course Italian dinners. Yes, the handsome owner is still very civic minded, taking part in many Coastside projects. Fine wine list to complement your meal. Easy parking just in front of the restaurant, which is located but a short distance from the Pacific Ocean.

Country Music U.S.A. Sparks Shy Clown

In Sparks (East Reno), Shy Clown, otherwise known as "Country Music U.S.A.," has an entertainment policy of booking only top names in Country and Western music.

Slated to open for a short stint on Tuesday is Del Reeves, with Billy Jo Spears and the Good Time Charlies also part of the show.

Sue Richards and Jerry Thompson are scheduled to open June 21. Located on Rock Boulevard, just a few blocks off I-80, the Shy Clown is also a mecca for other typical Nevada enticements. Slots, craps, 21 and other games are all on the premises, as well as two bustling restaurant operations. The Steak House, open every day from 5 p.m., offers complete dinners for just $4.95. An "all you can eat" lunch or dinner buffet is also available.

For faster service, there is also a coffee shop operation.

The Shy Clown's owners are very promotion conscious. They offer a charter program for groups, as well as special refund packages for drive-ups. These packages are distributed at key restaurants and rest stops along Interstate 80.

Juliet Prowse the Consummate Entertainer

Whenever the name Juliet Prowse is mentioned, one immediately thinks of the gorgeous, lengthy limbs of this beautiful dancer, and the magical ways in which she puts them to dancing use.

hundreds of local students how to cook various Chinese dishes for the Burlingame Recreation Department. Winnie also wrote the book "The Wok Way," which has sold more than 50,000 copies. The Wok is a Chinese method hundreds of years old and is just now gaining popularity in the United States. You might say wok is the Chinese equivalent to our frying pan, except that it's shaped like a bowl. The Wok Way specializes in Cantonese, Mandarin and Szechwan cuisines. Food to take out.

This "consummate entertainer" stars in a lavish production show in the Celebrity Room of John Ascuaga's Nugget (in Sparks, East Reno) through June 22.

Featured with Miss Prowse through next Tuesday is comedian Nipsey Russell. For the week of June 16-22, Foster Brooks, the inebriated comedian, will be the co-star.

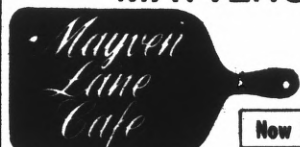

Show times in the theater-restaurant are 8 and 11:30 p.m. with the exception of Saturday when the cocktail show begins at midnight. Appearing as the opening act on all shows are Bertha and Tina, the performing elephants. Music is by the Don Conn Orchestra. Juliet Prowse is regarded by critics as the complete entertainer—actress, comedienne, singer and dancer. She has demonstrated her varied talents in motion pictures, on television, in legitimate theater and in major niteries around the world.

Live entertainment is also available at the Nugget in the Casino Cabaret where two acts alternate each night (except Monday) in continuous shows from 8 until 2 in the morning. There is no cover charge and reservations are not required.

Lawrence Welk To Harrah's Tahoe

Lawrence Welk will make his annual summer visit to Harrah's Tahoe Friday, June 25. The musical maestro and his entire television cast will entertain for three weeks in the South Shore Room.

The "champagne music" will flow twice nightly at 8:15 and midnight through July 15. Carol Burnett, Tim Conway and the Pointer Sisters conclude their engagement Thursday night, June 24.

Though celebrating his 52nd year in show business, Welk has not slowed down. There are over 20 segments in his lavish production, including a stirring salute to our nation's bicentennial.

His multi-talented "family" does everything—it sings, dances, clowns and, best of all, makes music. Members present all types of music from country to soul, movie medleys such as "South Pacific" to the big band sounds of the 30's and 40's.

As for Welk himself, as one critic said, "He emcees, conducts a little, dances a few steps, delights the crowd with quips on his age, and is the kingpin of one of the year's top shows."

Next at Harrah's Tahoe is Sammy Davis Jr. (July 15-29).

LAWRENCE WELK

Western Style Fun at Ponderosa

The time has come for you and your family to personally experience the thrills and excitement of "Bonanza," the long-running television series that has entertained millions throughout the world and which is now seen in re-runs on major channels.

Plan to stop over at the Ponderosa Ranch on your next visit to Nevada. The attraction is located at Incline Village, North Shore Lake Tahoe, and features the famous television home of the Ben Cartwright family.

Other attractions at the ranch include the Silver Dollar Saloon and trails for horseback riding. Chuckwagon grub, capturing the true flavor of the Old West, is available.

Minden Inn "Desert Oasis"

Just 35 miles south of Reno, off Highway 395, stands the community of Minden, Nevada. And in the heart of the city stands the famous Minden Inn.

"Best Steaks in Nevada"—that's what they'll tell you as you're driving through the desert state, whether it be multi-millionaires or old unshaven prospectors leading a mule on a harness. Everyone is in agreement on that point.

The rooms at the Minden Inn are comfortable and moderately priced, and the dining room offers breakfast, lunch and dinner. (For those with sporting blood, there is a gaming room).

NEVADA FUN !!

Vacation prospectors in search of fun and fortune are sure to think they have reached the end of the rainbow when selecting either Barney's or the South Tahoe Nugget as their destination points.

Here customers provide their own entertainment with the many fun games provided by these two smart clubs. Each has been newly redecorated (interior and exterior) and the most up-to-date machines abound in the casinos.

You also will find the personnel ready to help and to see that your visit is a memorable one. The restaurants in Barney's and the South Tahoe Nugget offer top-grade food and cocktails served in an atmosphere that is pleasing to all.

Also be sure to take advantage of the bonus coupons offered. If you live in San Mateo and you don't have a coupon stop in at 1417 South El Camino Real and pick one up—they're free and will assure you of fun.

At Le Trianon

Are you the kind of fisherman who likes to catch them big? Then quit dropping your line into the lakes which yield up either nothing or minnow-sized fish which must be immediately returned to the water lest the game warden pounce on you from the bushes.

This summer angle your angling toward Le Trianon Resort, located on Highway 20 about 12 miles east of Highway 101 near Ukiah, California. Le Trianon is open year round and is great for trout and bass fishing (in fact, no water skiing is allowed, thereby insuring that you will not be disturbed by fast-moving motorboats as you quietly drop your line into the lake.

Le Trianon is located on the edge of a beautiful blue lake. There are cabins, trailers, swimming and boating for your convenience.

Guy and Gloria Christmas Tree

The Christmas Tree, a popular dining spot which has been shut down for a while, has reopened under the aegis of Guy and Gloria Michaels much to the delight of those who know the quality food these two stand behind.

Guy and Gloria originated the Christmas Tree a few years ago, but then moved to Incline Village.

Now that they are back, the Michaels have reinstated their most popular food item: mahogany broiled steaks. These delicious, mouth-watering delicacies topline a menu of special dishes that have to be eaten to be appreciated.

The Christmas Tree, which is open seven days a week from 5:30 to 11 p.m., is located atop Mt. Rose, midway between Reno and Lake Tahoe, Nevada.

CLYDE MCCOY

Is now appearing at John Ascuaga's Nugget (Sparks, East Reno) through June 16 in the Casino Cabaret. McCoy is famed for his wahwah trumpet interpretation of "Sugar Blues." Entertainment in the cabaret is continuous each night (except Monday) from 8 until 2 a.m. in the morning.

Billy Armstrong In Lounge at Harvey's

Billy Armstrong, number one country fiddle player in the country, is now performing in the Theatre Lounge of Harvey's Resort Hotel, South Lake Tahoe, through June 23.

"Not bad for someone who was trained in classical violin," quips the talented Armstrong. "I can laugh now when I saw I started with long hair music and now I have long hair and play a completely different type."

He continues: "It's really ironic. I couldn't stand country and western music at an early point in life. My first love was the big bands. But June 21, alternating with as I got to know and understand country music, it became my first joy. I do not, however, shut out any other type of music. We can all learn something from the messages each conveys."

Others now appearing in the Theatre Lounge: Frankie Fanelli through June 21; Keri Crossman and Company through June 21 and Joey Silva, featuring Sherry Crawford, through June 20.

Opening in the Lounge on Monday will be Lou Styles and the Stylists, who remain through July 4.

Edward Sullivan Tops Oahu Skies as Manager Of New Hyatt High-Rise

There is no beach in the world more legendary than Waikiki. Located on the picturesque island of Oahu, in the city of Honolulu, Waikiki has come to epitomize all beaches which have been designed solely for recreation and fun-in-the-sun.

Thousands come to this scenic stretch of sand to bathe in the bright, tanning Hawaiian sun ... to undulate their lightly-clad bodies across the fabulous sand ... to swim in the warm waters of the Pacific ... to ogle the opposite sex clad in the most fashionable and provocative of swim wear. To those who have enjoyed it firsthand, to the rest of the world which has experienced it only vicariously, Waikiki is a playground of sun, sand and surf, denoting the ultimate in beach attractions.

Part of the attractiveness of Waikiki are the many high-rise luxurious hotels which loom above the beach frolickers like mighty sentinels on watch. These multi-million dollar structures are the finest of their kind in the world, attracting the elite who are looking for the unbeatable in hospitality, exquisite decor, cuisine, service and the myriad of details a hotel must tend to.

Soaring like a mighty eagle over the beach of Waikiki, at the world-famous three-block area called Hemmeyer Center is the newest, and perhaps most remarkable, addition to the skyline of Honolulu. It is the Hyatt Regency Waikiki, a towering monument to man's achievements, located in close proximity to the lush Kapiolani Park and to the unique Kings Alley Resort Shopping Center.

Overseeing the Hyatt Regency Waikiki, and functioning as managing director with a genuine concern for full operational capability and the needs of the tourist at heart, is Edward "Ed" Sullivan.

ED SULLIVAN

Until recently the general manager of the Hyatt on Union Square in San Francisco, Sullivan is now managing director of the Hyatt Regency Waikiki at Hemmeyer Center, Honolulu, Hawaii.

Sullivan was picked for this formidable job of running one of the world's most luxurious hotels because of his excellent background with the Hyatt Corporation. Sullivan first joined Hyatt in 1960 at the Seattle Hyatt House and soon thereafter was transferred to the Burlingame Hyatt as its general manager.

Following a long and fruitful tenure in Burlingame, Sullivan was picked for a new and challenging task: to serve as general manager of the Hyatt Regency Atlanta. It was the first of the "Regency" hotels and Sullivan proved more than capable of handling the job. The hotel was an immediate success and he remained in charge from 1967 through 1972. It marked a new era for Hyatt Corporation—and established Sullivan in the top echelons of management and in the pages of Who's Who in America.

In 1972 Sullivan became regional vice president and general manager of Hyatt on Union Square in San Francisco, where he remained until his new appointment to the Waikiki high-rise.

The Hyatt Regency Waikiki, which officially opens this summer, rises dramatically with its twin towers 40 stories high. Among its remarkable features is the Hyatt atrium lobby with a ten-story Great Hall, and 40-foot waterfalls cascading through extensive tropical greenery and flowers.

The hotel will include a meeting and convention center to accommodate groups up to 1200 persons.

HAWAIIAN HULA

Hula dancing is just one of the more obvious lures to compel one to vacation in the land of Hawaii. These native dancing girls, while tempting in themselves, are only a small part of what is in store for travelers who pick one of the Hawaiian islands for their rest and recreation. Swing and sway the Hawaiian way by calling a travel agent today and making arrangements to visit Hawaii.

George M. Mardikian

NATIONAL RECOGNITION AWARD

By FREEDOM'S FOUNDATION AT VALLEY FORGE To GEORGE MARDIKIAN

For his deep and abiding love for his adopted America

For his prodigious efforts to tell America about the blessings of freedom too often taken for granted

"That July morning when I first saw the Statue of Liberty from the deck of the immigrant steamer, it was like suddenly hearing a hymn of hope

"The priceless thing America has given me has nothing to do with money or fame. I call it the dignity of being American

"Many fine young Americans have a chance to be something have faith in yourself, faith in your Country, and, third and foremost, faith in almighty God. Back this up with hard work and nothing can stop you"

Omar Khayyam's

From the far corners of the earth

It is the home of many new American gastronomic delights. Its colorful owner is George M. Mardikian, famous author of "Song of America," published by McGraw Hill Book Company; "I Found the Happy Land," published by Reader's Digest; many philosophical essays in "This Week Magazine" and, of course, not forgetting his famous cook book "Dinner at Omar Khayyam's" now in its 12th edition.

It was George M. Mardikian who added to the American vocabulary such words as Lavash (Armenian bread), Rose Petal Preserves, Shish Kebab, Pilaff, Kouzou Kzartma Dolma, Paklava, Haigagan Salad, Patlijan and Tchakhokhbelli Chicken and many more.

Many special articles have been written in such National and International magazines as Reader's Digest, Life, Time, Newsweek, Saturday Evening Post, Look, Collier's, This Week, Parade, Women's Home Companion and twice in the Congressional Record.

Known from one end of the world to the other, it was George M. Mardikian who made the great Persian Poet, Philosopher and Astronomer, Omar Khayyam's name synonymous with good food and good living. Many kings, presidents and world's greats such as athletes, writers, diplomats, journalists, stars of the stage, screen, radio and television, have made their habit of dining at Omar Khayyam's.

The location of Omar Khayyam's is exactly one block away from Union Square, on O'Farrell at Powell Streets. It is considered one of the most beautiful dining rooms in San Francisco with Philippine mahogany walls, original paintings by great artists depicting scenes from the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam. So don't fail to have a dinner there where you will find every imaginable type of food to please your palate, from charcoal broiled juicy steaks to Shish Kebab and Pilaff, roast chickens, ducks, turkey, ham, to the most unusual lamb dishes.

Cocktails and California Wines will add to your Evening's Dining Pleasure.
